

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I wish to express my gratitude to all those persons and institutions involved, directly or indirectly, in the making of this book. Thus, I am deeply indebted to the CODESRIA/Rockefeller Foundation "Reflections on Development" Programmes for the award of a fellowship without which the study could not have been pursued. My gratitude goes also to Professor Richard Ohmann, Director of the Center for the Humanities of Wesleyan University, who kindly put at my disposal all the facilities of the Center and of the University. I am particularly thankful to Professor Robert Ginsberg for his friendship and invaluable encouragement at a time when severe hardships could have been so demoralizing. Gratitude is also due to my friend, Berhanu Haile Michael, for his manifold assistance in the completion of the book.
