

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Every organization from the National Rifle Association to the La Leche League wanted to fund this project. With little forethought and less rumination, I rejected every offer except from the Society for the Advancement of Caffeine Addiction. I want to thank SACA for the tons of coffee, tea, and chocolate they shipped to me on a monthly basis. This book is brought to you by caffeine. Caffeine: it is not illegal—yet.

I would also like to thank all the Muses who stayed away during this project. Whenever they're around and jabbering in my ear, all I ever write is schlock. I've told them over and over again that I don't need their help and they should go bother someone else. I'm warning the Muses—with the exception of Polycaffeinia—Never stalk me again, or else you'll find yourselves in court, I promise you that.

Tad Greg Reardon—thank you for the beautiful cosmetic surgery you did on the text. I also appreciate the Milleronians whose critical and editorial comments assisted our great textual surgeon: Tad Albano, Sue Byars, Matt Griffin, Gregory Harms, Ken Haines, Margaret Long, Michelle Mega, Lisa Merrill, Matt Smorynski, and Mike Vander Luitgaren.
