

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Color Plates

(Pls. 1-8 can be found between the pages xxxii and 1.)

- Plate 1a. Gold ornaments from a Hermundurian princely grave, 3rd century A.D., at Gommern (Halle, Landesmuseum für Vorgeschichte).
- Plate 1b. Shield boss from the 3rd century princely grave at Gommern (Halle, Landesmuseum für Vorgeschichte).
- Plate 1c. Contents of a Frankish princely grave, c.500, at Gelduba (Krefeld-Burg Linn, Landschaftsmuseum des Niederrheins)
- Plate 1d. Golden purse fittings from a Saxon princely grave, c.600, at Beckum (Münster, Westfälisches Museum für Archäologie).
- Plates 2a, 2b. Hunno-Germanic chip-carved silver fibulas, buckles, necklaces, arm rings and an earring (r.) (Nyiregyháza, Museum); Gepidic chip-carved buckle with bird motif (l.), 5th century, from Bökenymindszent (Budapest, National Museum).
- Plate 2c. Colored clay beads from Alemanic women's graves, c.600, from Nordendorf, Neu-Ulm (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
- Plate 2d. Head ornaments of the Eastern nomads living between the Volga and Danube rivers, c.400, from a woman's grave at Varna, Bulgaria (Cologne, Römisch-Germanisches Museum, Rheinisches Bildarchiv Köln).
- Plate 3a. Frankish sword from the princely grave at Flonheim, c.500 (Worms, Museum der Stadt Worms).
- Plate 3b. Part of a princely lady's grave inventory from beneath Cologne Cathedral, 537, earrings, necklaces with coins and polychrome pendants, colored beads, braided gold wire, and rosette fibulas (Cologne, Dombauarchiv).
- Plate 3c. Frankish (claw) proboscis beaker, c.500, from Gelduba (Krefeld-Burg Linn, Landschaftsmuseum des Niederrheins).
- Plate 3d. Frankish (claw) proboscis and inversion beakers, 5th/6th centuries, from the Alemanic sites at Langenau and Dittigheim (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
- Plate 4a. Frankish (claw) proboscis beaker from Andernach, 5th/6th centuries (Cologne, Römisch-Germanisches Museum, Rheinisches Bildarchiv Köln).
- Plate 4b. Bavarian belt hanging with perforated ornamental disc amulet, 7th century, from München-Aubing (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).

- Plate 4c. Earrings with Byzantine Christian motifs, 7th century, from Steinkönig/Ebersberg. Detail shows doves with cross and at a fountain (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
- Plate 4d. Goldleaf cross with an impressed face, perhaps a Christ representation, and another impression in the Animal Style II, from a weapons grave at Spötting/Landsberg, 7th century (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
- Plates 5a. Lombardic goldleaf cross from Stabio, Switzerland, 7th/8th century (Zürich, Schweizerisches Landesmuseum).
- Plate 5b. Alemanic goldleaf cross, from Langeringen, early 7th century, with an effigy of the Byzantine Emperor Phocas, (602 – 610) (Augsburg, Römisches Museum).
- Plates 5c, 5d. Two Roman imperial coins, Maximilianus I Herculeus (296 – 305) and Valens (364 – 378), converted to bracteates, from the 4th century treasure at Szilagysemylo, Romania (Vienna, Kunsthistorisches Museum).
- Plate 6a. Bracteat of the 6th century from Nebenstedt/Dannenberg (Hanover, Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum).
- Plate 6b. Bracteat from Gottorf/Schleswig (Schleswig, Archäologische Landesmuseen, Schloß Gottorf)
- Plates 6c, 6d. Bracteates from Landegge/Meppen (Hanover, Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum).
- Plates 7a, 7b. Bracteates from Nebenstedt/Dannenberg, 6th century (Hanover, Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum).
- Plate 7c. Conched golden disc fibula with cabochon gem settings, pearls, filigree and an antique cameo, end of 7th century, from Mölsheim (Darmstadt, Hessisches Landesmuseum).
- Plate 7d. Frankish polychrome fibula, 7th century, from an Alemanic woman's grave at Wittislingen (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
- Plate 8a. Northern fibula from Engers/Neuwied made after 550 in Animal Style I (Bonn, Rheinisches Landesmuseum).
- Plate 8b. Frankish disc fibula from Krautheim-Klepsau made of gold, silver and bronze, fire gilt with almandines, and mask and intertwining designs (Karlsruhe, Badisches Landesmuseum).
- Plate 8c. Alemanic gold disc fibula from Dittenheim, 6th/7th century, (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
- Plate 8d. Meerscham and polychrome buckle from the Frankish princely grave at Flonheim, c.500 (Worms, Museum der Stadt).

Figures

PART A

(Figs. 1-64 can be found between the pages 64 and 65.)

1. Excavated remains of stable-houses at the "Wurt" Feddersen Wierde, 1st century. Main stable-house has livestock boxes, passage and manure gutters in front; living quarters are the light colored area at the rear (Wilhelmshaven, Niedersächsisches Institut für Historische Küstenforschung).
2. Spindles, weights with models of pit house weaving sheds from the Saxon settlement at Warendorf (Münster, Westfälisches Museum für Archäologie).
3. Jastorf-Ripdorf ware, 400 – 200 B.C., from Eastern Mecklenburg (Lübstorf, Schloß Wiligrad, Archäologisches Landesmuseum Mecklenburg-Vorpommern).
4. Lombardic urn, 1st/2nd century, gravefinds from Wiebendorf/Hagenow (Lübstorf, Schloß Wiligrad, Archäologisches Landesmuseum Mecklenburg-Vorpommern).
5. Mainly Roman gravefinds from the aristocratic necropolis at Häven/Sternberg (Lübstorf, Schloß Wiligrad, Archäologisches Landesmuseum Mecklenburg-Vorpommern).
6. Early Saxon biconical urns, ornamented Buckelurnen, from the graveyard at Gudendorf, 1st-6th century (Cuxhaven, Museum für Vor- und Frühgeschichte).
7. Wheelthrown pottery for the Thuringian nobility, 454 – 531 (Köthen/Anhalt, Historisches Museum).
8. Situlas of the Großromstedt Culture — 1st century Elbian Suebians from Thuringia — from Baldersheim/Würzburg (Würzburg, Mainfränkisches Museum).
9. Elbian pottery, 3rd/4th century, from southern Mark Brandenburg (Berlin-Charlottenburg, Museum für Vor- und Frühgeschichte).
10. Hermundurian/Thuringian handled urns, northern Elbian imports, before 400, marking the transition to cremation (Quedlinburg, Schloßmuseum).
11. Crossbow fibulas from the woman's grave at Haßleben, 3rd century (Weimar, Museum für Ur- und Frühgeschichte).
12. Assorted fibulas, 6th/7th century, from Eischleben/Arnstadt (Weimar, Museum für Ur- und Frühgeschichte).
13. Deformed skull, 4th/5th century (Weimar, Museum für Ur- und Frühgeschichte).

14. Belt buckle of bronze with bosses, engraved heads and animals, after 400, following the Christianization of the Burgundians, from their early settlement area along the Middle Rhine (Cologne, Römisch-Germanisches Museum, Rheinisches Bildarchiv Köln).
15. Hunish horse trappings, weapons, 5th century (Budapest, National Museum).
16. Hunish funerary vessel of cast bronze, from Törtel (Budapest, National Museum).
17. Burgundian belt buckle, chip carved bronze, 6th/7th century (Zürich, Schweizerisches Landesmuseum).
18. Burgundian belt buckle of cast bronze bearing pagan and Christian motifs — winged horses flanking a tree of life, 6th/7th century (Bern, Historisches Museum).
19. Roman chip carved belt assembly, late 4th century (Krefeld-Burg Linn, Landschaftsmuseum des Niederrheins).
20. Fibulas of gilt silver, 5th century, from Gelduba (Krefeld-Burg Linn, Landschaftsmuseum des Niederrheins).
21. Aula Palatina, basilica, part of the former Constantinean palace complex. Right wall had collapsed and during Merovingian times the hall was part of the residence of Frankish counts (Trier).
22. Column of Marcus Aurelius commemorating the campaigns of the Marcomannic Wars. The central frieze shows a chieftain being led into the presence of the Imperator (Rome).
23. Gilt silver bow fibulas, c.500, from the Runde Berg/Urach (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
24. Alemanic tools, c.500, from the Runde Berg/Urach (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
25. Roman silver fibula, early 4th century, grave find from Irrsdorf/Straßwalchen (Salzburg, Augusteum).
26. Roman chip carved belt fittings, 4th century, from an inhumation grave set in the ruins of a Roman villa at Salzburg-Maxglan (Salzburg, Carolino Augusteum).
27. Pottery from Friedenrain (Straubing, Gäubodenmuseum).
28. Reconstructions of Bavarian houses, 6th/8th century, at the open air display Die Bajuwaren, Von Severin bis Tassilo, 488 – 788, 19. Mai bis 6. November 1988 at Mattsee/Salzburg.
29. Models of Bavarian pit houses as excavated at Kirchheim, 7th century (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
30. Germanic utensils, including an axe and a fishing spear (replica), early 6th century, from Maria Ponsee (Traismauer, Niederösterreichisches Landesmuseum für Frühgeschichte).

31. Late Roman and Germanic pottery and glass, 5th century (Prague, National Museum).
32. Pre-Lombardic-Elbian pottery, spurs and weapons, 3rd/4th century (Prague, National Museum).
33. Child's deformed skull, early 5th century, from Schiltern in Lower Austria (Traismauer, Niederösterreichisches Landesmuseum für Frühgeschichte).
34. Lombardic gold fibulas, late 5th century, from Szentendre, north of Budapest (Budapest, National Museum).
35. Lombardic fibulas from Pannonia, 6th century (Budapest, National Museum).
36. Roman glass and Lombardic fibulas from Hegykö, 6th century (Budapest, National Museum).
37. Gepidic pottery worked in the Roman manner from the Tisza region, 5th century (Budapest, National Museum).
38. Gepidic buckle with bird motifs, 5th century, from Bökenymindszent (Budapest, National Museum).
39. Gepidic silver eagle buckle, c.500 (Budapest, National Museum).
40. Avar buckles, c.700, from Zila Szebeny, Romania (Budapest, National Museum).
41. Early Slavic pottery, 6th century, Prague type (Prague, National Museum).
42. Slavic stirrups, early 8th century (Prague, National Museum).
43. Shield fittings of gilt bronze of a horseman and dog, from Stabio, Canton Tessin, 6th/7th century (Bern, Historisches Museum).
44. Theodelinda's Gospel covers in the treasury of Monza Cathedral. The inscription names her as Theodelenda Reg. (ina) Gloriosissima. The covers show classical and polychrome elements in systematic arrangements (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
45. Slavic pottery, Prague type, 6th century (Prague, National Museum).
46. Slavic or Avar pottery with incised design from Lower Austria, 6th century (Horn, Höbarth- und Madermuseum).
47. Slavic pottery, probably to be associated with the Slavic Wilzi, 4th/6th century (Stralsund, Kunsthistorisches Museum).
48. Slavic pottery of the Suckow type, 6th/7th century (Stralsund, Kunsthistorisches Museum).
49. Reconstruction of the Slavic settlement and fortification at Groß Raden (Lübstorf, Schloß Wiligrad, Archäologisches Landesmuseum Mecklenburg-Vorpommern).

50. Double headed cultic figure from the Fischerinsel, Tollensesee/Neubrandenburg, late 6th century (Lübstorf, Schloß Wiligrad, Archäologisches Landesmuseum Mecklenburg-Vorpommern).
51. Funnelshaped urn, 1st/2nd century, from Harsefeld (Stade, Schwedenspeicher Museum).
52. Cicada fibulas, appliqués, fittings and buckles, early 5th century, from Untersiebenbrunn (Traismauer, Landesmuseum für Frühgeschichte).
53. Lance tips and spurs, mid 3rd century (Vienna, Naturhistorisches Museum).
54. Goldleaf crosses (Freiburg, Museum für Vor- und Frühgeschichte).
55. Animal shaped aquamanile for cultic purposes from Liebenau, late 5th to 7th century (Hanover, Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum).
56. Sacrificial urn from Liebenau, late 5th to 7th century (Hanover, Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum).
57. Roman chip carved metallic fittings, 5th/6th century (Cologne, Römisch-Germanisches Museum, Rheinisches Bildarchiv Köln).
58. Weapons from a Saxon grave inventory, Beckum, 6th/7th century (Münster, Westfälisches Museum für Archäologie).
59. Burial of two horses and a dog, 6th century, from Zeuzleben (Würzburg, Mainfränkisches Museum).
60. Roman-Saxon pottery, c.400 (Hanover, Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum).
61. Buckelurne with faces for bosses, perhaps used for cultic purposes, 4th century, from Wehden/Wesermünde (Hanover, Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum).
62. Model of a Saxon farm at Warendorf reconstructed from the archeological evidence (Münster, Westfälisches Museum für Archäologie).
63. Bronze strap ends with demonic representations from Nusplingen, 5th/6th century (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
64. Stamped pottery, 5th/6th century, from Sontheim/Brenz (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).

PART B

(Figs. 65-99 can be found between the pages 144 and 145.)

65. Elbian pottery of the Hermunduri, 1st/2nd century, from the Mark Brandenburg (Berlin-Charlottenburg, Museum für Vor- und Frühgeschichte).
66. Pottery of the Germanic Rhine-Weser-Saale populations, 3rd century, from Ilversgehoven (Halle, Landesmuseum für Vorgeschichte).

67. Wheel thrown situla made for the Thuringian aristocracy, before 400, from the Hermundurian gravefield at Köthen (Köthen/Anhalt, Historisches Museum).
68. Silver objects from a pre-Thuringian grave inventory, 3rd century, at Leuna (Halle, Landesmuseum für Vorgeschichte).
69. Tutulus fibulas from the 3rd century woman's grave at Haßleben (Weimar, Museum für Ur- und Frühgeschichte).
70. Bavarian weapons — swords, lances, saxes — from various Bavarian locations. 5th-7th century (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
71. S-fibulas, 5th/6th century from Straubing-Bajuwarenstrasse (Straubing, Gäubodenmuseum).
72. Thuringian pincer fibulas, c.500, from Straubing-Bajuwarenstrasse (Straubing, Gäubodenmuseum).
73. Franco-Alemanic fibulas, knobs set with almandines, 5th/6th century, Straubing-Bajuwarenstrasse (Straubing, Gäubodenmuseum).
74. Thuringian pincer fibulas, 6th century, from Klettham/Erding (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
75. Lombardic fibulas, 6th century, from Thalmässing (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
76. Ostrogothic silver fibulas set with Almandines, 6th century, from Klettham/Erding (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
77. Alemanic silver appliqués, 6th/7th century (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
78. Fibula head plates from Nordendorf (II) (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
79. Bavarian silver inlaid sword pommels, 6th century, from München-Giesing (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
80. Silver inlaid buckle plates, 6th/7th century, from Mengen (Freiburg, Museum für Vor- und Frühgeschichte).
81. Lance tip with inlaid runes, 6th/7th century, from Wurmlingen (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
82. Polychrome S-fibulas, 6th/7th century, from Deißlingen (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
83. Alemanic nigra ware, 4th century, from Hockenheim (Mannheim, Reiss-Museum).
84. Frankish and Thuringian ware from Basel-Bernerling, 6th century (Basel, Historisches Museum).

85. Alemanic belt fittings of tinned bronze from a man's grave at Nenzingen/Stockach, animal Style of the early 7th century (Karlsruhe, Badisches Landesmuseum).
86. Silver bridle fittings, 7th century, from Niederstotzingen (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
87. Saxon longsword, 7th/8th century, originally with red and green glass inlay on pommel and cross bar, from Lankern (Münster, Westfälisches Museum für Archäologie).
88. Bronze ornamental discs, 6th/7th century, from Kleinlangheim/Kitzingen (Würzburg, Mainfränkisches Museum).
89. Earring, polychrome rosette fibulas and bow fibulas set with almandines, 5th/6th century, from Straubing-Bajuwarenstrasse (Straubing, Gäubodenmuseum).
90. Belt fittings from an Alemanic woman's grave, 7th century (Karlsruhe, Badisches Landesmuseum).
91. Sections of an Alemanic chain hanging, bronze, 7th century, from Kirchheim /Ries (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
92. Amulet of stag antler, 6th/7th century, from Gelchsheim (Würzburg, Mainfränkisches Museum).
93. Silver earring, 6th/7th century (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
94. Alemanic tree coffin with a snake as death symbol, 6th/7th century, from Zöbingen (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
95. Goldleaf cross, 5th/6th century, from Sontheim/Brenz (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
96. Frankish limestone gravestone from Andernach, early 7th century. The cross is surrounded by palm leaves and surmounted by a "winged" horse (Bonn, Rheinisches Landesmuseum).
97. Frankish gravestone from Mainz, 7th century. "In this grave rest in blessed memory Bertisindis who lived for twenty years and Rodoaldus who lived happily for three years". Perhaps a mother and her son (Mainz, Landesmuseum, Inv. No. 3006).
98. Spangenhelm, arango, barrelhoops, spear point and bones from the meat provisions from the princely grave at Morken (Bonn, Rheinisches Landesmuseum).
99. Frontal plaque of a helmet from the Val di Nievolo (Lucca), 6th/7th century, reputedly showing the glorification of King Agilulf (Deutsches Kunsthistorisches Institut, Neg. nr.1656, Florence).

PART C

(Figs. 100-166 can be found between the pages 208 and 209.)

100. Saxon Buckelurnen, from Liebenau, 5th/7th century, (Hanover, Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum).
101. Carved doorway of a reconstructed Bavarian house, 488 – 788, open air display at Mattsee/Salzburg.
102. Frankish proboscis beaker from a warrior's grave, Krefeld-Gellep, 5th century (Krefeld-Burg Linn, Landschaftsmuseum des Niederrheins).
103. Frankish gravestone of Rignedrudis fashioned from a Roman sill found at Brühl-Vochem, 6th century (Bonn, Rheinisches Landesmuseum).
104. Christian stele from Moselkern near Cochem-Zell, 7th century (Bonn, Rheinisches Landesmuseum).
105. Frankish gravestone from Leutesdorf/Neuwied, 7th century (Bonn, Rheinisches Landesmuseum).
- 106 – 107. Frankish gravestone from Niederdollendorf-Königswinter, early 7th century (Bonn, Rheinisches Landesmuseum).
- 108 – 110. Fragments of stone relief, probably an altar-screen, from Hornhausen/Oschersleben, 8th century. Horseman may represent Odin, but more probably a mounted saint. Snake intertwines are carved in Animal Style II. Fragments of another panel show a hind and the head of a stag (Halle, Landesmuseum für Vorgeschichte).
111. Frankish perforated disc amulets, 6th/7th century (Cologne, Römisch-Germanisches Museum, Rheinisches Bildarchiv Köln).
112. Frankish amulet of a mounted saint in the Coptic tradition, 6th/7th century (Karlsruhe, Badisches Landesmuseum).
113. Perforated disc amulet from a Frankish woman's grave, 7th century, showing a horseman wielding a lance, probably another mounted saint (Karlsruhe, Badisches Landesmuseum).
114. Pair of keys from a Frankish woman's grave, 6th/7th century (Bonn, Rheinisches Landesmuseum).
115. Gepidic or Gothic necklace with amulets, keys and a topaz, c.400, from Szilagyomlyó, Romania (Vienna, Kunsthistorisches Museum).
116. Phalera from the sacrificial moor at Thorsberg, 3rd/4th century, from the Roman shops at Cologne. Detail (Schleswig, Archäologische Landesmuseen, Schloß Gottorf).
117. Alemanic goldleaf cross from Hintschingen, 7th century (Karlsruhe, Badisches Landesmuseum).
118. Alemanic goldleaf cross, 6th/7th century, from Ulm (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).

119. Goldleaf cross and bird of prey appliqués, 6th/7th century from Giengen, head between animals motif (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
120. Unique goldleaf disc fibula from a 7th century noble lady's grave from Plietzhausen. Singular is the "narrative" component of a horseman riding down an opponent who in the last moment drives his sword into the horse's chest. An armed figure on the horse's rump helps to guide the spear. The scene bears a very striking resemblance with scenes familiar from gravestones erected by the Roman cavalry along the Lower Rhine, and derived from a Greek example in the Kerameikon in Athens — Victorious horseman riding down a barbarian (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
121. Byzantine silver phalerae, ornamental discs from a horse harness, c.600, from a noble's grave at Hüfingen/Donaueschingen, showing the Virgin Mary and infant Jesus (lt.) and St. George killing the dragon (rt.) (Karlsruhe, Badisches Landesmuseum).
122. Imported Scandinavian rectangular based fibula, from Kirchheim/Teck (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
123. Roman fibula from Ostrovany (formerly Ostropatake) in Eastern Slovakia (Vienna, Kunsthistorisches Museum).
124. Fibula from a (Vandilic?) princely grave at Wroclaw-Zakrzow (Breslau-Sakrau) in Silesia, 1st to 4th century (Berlin-Charlottenburg, Museum für Vor- und Frühgeschichte).
125. Elbian crossbow fibulas of early Lombardic or Thuringian origin, 3rd/5th century; owl fibulas and penannular brooch from the eastern Baltic coast (Berlin-Charlottenburg, Museum für Vor- und Frühgeschichte).
126. Bavarian cicada fibulas, "bees", from Klettham/Erding, 5th/6th century (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
127. Lombardic gilt silver fibulas, 6th/7th century, from Dagersheim (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
128. Bavarian S-shaped polychrome disc fibulas, 6th century, from Aubing (centre top and bottom) and from Klettham/Erding (bottom left) (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
129. Bow and cicada fibulas from Taman/Kerch (Crimea), c.400 (Cologne, Römisch-Germanisches Museum, Rheinisches Bildarchiv Köln).
130. Gilt silver fibulas, buckles, ear ring and necklaces from a Gepidic woman's grave inventory, 5th century, at Gavavencsellö on the river Tisza (Nyeregyháza, Museum; Budapest, National Museum).
131. Fibulas, gold wire necklaces, neckring, bracelets, polychrome buckle, earrings and rings from a young (20 – 24yrs) princely Gothic woman's grave at Untersiebenbrunn in Lower Austria, early 5th century (Vienna, Kunsthistorisches Museum).

132. Saxon equal arm brooch and falcon fibulas bearing human mask, 5th century, from Anderlingen/Bremervörde (Hanover, Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum). Diagram of the animal frieze in Haseloff, p.7. All references to Haseloff are with the courtesy of Frau Dr. H. Haseloff-Bönning.
133. Ostrogothic gilt silver fibula with almandines, 5th/6th century, from Pleidelsheim (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
134. Ostrogothic silver fibulas with almandines, 6th century, from Klettham/Erding (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
135. Ostrogothic eagle fibula, c.500, from Domagnano, Republic of San Marino (Nuremberg, Germanisches Nationalmuseum).
136. Fibula fragment from Galsted/Hadersley, Southern Jutland (Copenhagen, National Museum of Denmark).
137. Northern fibula from Engers/Neuwied made after 550 in Animal Style I (Diagram, Haseloff, p.41) (Bonn, Rheinisches Landesmuseum).
138. Northern fibulas from Basel-Kleinhüningen, mid 5th-7th century (Diagram Haseloff, p.42) (Basel, Historisches Museum, Barfüßerkirche).
139. Northern fibula from Donzdorf/Göppingen (Diagram Haseloff, p.46) (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
140. Northern fibula, from Langweid I (Diagram Haseloff, p.328) (Augsburg, Römisches Museum).
141. Northern fibulas, from Langweid II (Diagram Haseloff, p.350) (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
142. Northern fibula from Gönningen/Tübingen (Diagram Haseloff, pp.364, 367).
143. Gilt silver fibula from a woman's grave at Eltville, early 6th century (Diagram Haseloff, p.418). Detail of the rectangular base plate (Wiesbaden, Sammlung Nassauischer Altertümer).
144. Northern fibulas ornamented in Animal Style I from Nordendorf/Donauwörth (Diagram Haseloff, p.466) (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
145. Frankish bow fibula with knobs and faces, 6th/7th century (Worms, Museum der Stadt).
146. Lombardic fibula from an Alemanic girl's grave at Friedberg, c.660 (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
147. Lombardic fibula of the Northern type identified as Nordendorf I with runic inscription on the reverse (Augsburg, Römisches Museum).
148. Pair of Lombardic fibulas from Straubing-Bajuwarenstrasse. Note the very striking similarity with the fibula Nordendorf I (Straubing, Gäubodenmuseum).

149. Gilt silver fibulas with knobs, almandines and niello, c.600, from Krautheim-Klepsau (Diagram Haseloff, p.598f.) (Karlsruhe, Badisches Landesmuseum).
150. Gilt silver fibulas, early 6th century, from Bopfingen (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
151. Gilt silver fibulas, early 7th century, from Würzburg-Heidingsfeld (Diagram Haseloff, p.655) (Photograph courtesy Kunstschätze-Verlag, Würzburg. Diagram courtesy of Frau Dr. Haseloff-Böning, Würzburg).
152. Alemanic polychrome earring, S-fibula, bird of prey fibulas, late 6th century, from Schwabmünchen/Augsburg (Augsburg, Römisches Museum).
153. Alemanic gold disc fibulas showing complex cell designs from Nordendorf (It.) (Augsburg, Römisches Museum).
154. Alemanic disc fibula, 7th century, from the princely woman's grave at Wittislingen (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
155. Polychrome gold buckles, glass with glass-trails, arm ring, 5th century, from Fürst, the grave of an East Germanic noble, perhaps serving in Attila's forces (Munich, Archäologische Staatssammlung).
156. Ostrogothic belt buckle, 5th/6th century, (Karlsruhe, Badisches Landesmuseum).
157. Gepidic buckle, 5th century (Budapest, National Museum).
158. Saxon belt buckle from a woman's grave, 7th/8th century, from Soest (Münster, Westfälisches Museum für Archäologie).
159. Strapends with inlaid animals, 7th/8th century (Augsburg, Römisches Museum).
160. Alemanic four part belt assembly with predator fish design inlaid in silver and brass, 6th/7th century, from Niederstotzingen (Stuttgart, Württembergisches Landesmuseum).
161. Burgundian silver plated and inlaid belt buckle, 6th/8th century, from Fétigny (Zürich, Schweizerisches Landesmuseum).
162. Burgundian silverplated buckles (Zürich, Schweizerisches Landesmuseum).
163. Burgundian belt buckle showing figure with arms raised in prayer, cast bronze, 6th/7th century, from Neuenegg-Forst/Schönbrünnen (Bern, Historisches Museum).
164. Burgundian buckle, cast bronze, 6th/7th century showing "man between animals" with arms raised (Zürich, Schweizerisches Landesmuseum).
165. Burgundian buckles showing various settings of the "Daniel in the lion's den" motif and inscriptions (Zürich, Schweizerisches Landesmuseum).
166. Runic stone in Jelling, Denmark, erected by Harald Bluetooth, c.940.