

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to thank the University library in Leiden for the hospitality extended. Thanks are also due to Rosemary van Wengen, Jonathan Moyle, Mary Tyne and Rick van Vliet for their help in shaping and revising parts of the manuscript. I am also grateful to my teachers at Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, not only because they pointed me to books that proved to be essential for the development of this study but, more importantly, because they further strengthened my innate ability to persevere.

To my husband, Spiros Kukidis, I owe an inestimable debt of gratitude because he provided the emotional support that made the completion of this study possible.

TEXTS AND REFERENCES

Footnotes appear at the bottom of the page. In order to keep footnotes to a minimum and to enhance readability I have included page references in parentheses after quotations from the novels in the body of the text. All page references in the text are to the Penguin editions of the novels: Bleak House, 1971, Hard Times, 1969, Little Dorrit, 1967, A Tale of Two Cities, 1970, Great Expectations, 1965, and Our Mutual Friend, 1971. Numbers in brackets in the text refer to page numbers of the present study. For familiar journals I use MLA abbreviations (DSA, NCF, and ELH for Dickens Studies Annual, Nineteenth Century Fiction, and English Literary History respectively).