

Behind the Illiberal Turn: Values in Central Europe

European Values Studies

Edited by

Loek Halman (Tilburg University)

Paul de Graaf (Tilburg University)

The book series European Values Studies is based on the results of a large-scale, cross-national and longitudinal survey research program, founded in the late 1970s by what is now a foundation called the European Values Study. This study group investigates basic social, cultural, political, moral, and religious values held by the populations of the European countries. A first study was carried out in 1981, followed by repeat surveys in 1990, 1999, and 2008, in an extending number of countries. By now, all European countries are involved in the European Values Study. The publications in the book series on European Values include interpretations and explanations of the quantitative survey data. These are presented in the form of monographs and edited volumes. Incidentally, the Series publishes sourcebooks as well.

For more information on the European Values Study see:
www.europeanvaluesstudy.eu

VOLUME 18

The titles published in this series are listed at brill.com/evs

Behind the Illiberal Turn: Values in Central Europe

Edited by

Sanja Hajdinjak
Beatrice-Elena Chromková Manea
Roman Chytilek

BRILL

LEIDEN | BOSTON

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Names: Hajdinjak, Sanja, editor, author | Chromková Manea, Beatrice, editor, author. | Chytilek, Roman, editor, author.

Title: Behind the illiberal turn : values in Central Europe / edited by Sanja Hajdinjak, Beatrice Chromková Manea, Roman Chytilek.

Description: Leiden ; Boston : Brill, [2022] | Series: European values studies, 1568–5926 ; volume 18 | Includes bibliographical references and index.

Identifiers: LCCN 2022016837 (print) | LCCN 2022016838 (ebook) | ISBN 9789004514058 (hardback) | ISBN 9789004514041 (ebook)

Subjects: LCSH: Europe, Central--Politics and government--21st century. | Europe, Central--Social conditions--21st century. | Europe, Central--Economic conditions--21st century. | Political culture--Europe, Central--History--21st century. | Central Europeans--Attitudes. | Right and left (Political science)--Europe, CentrWal. | Right-wing extremists--Europe, Central. | Conservatism--Europe, Central. | New democracies--Europe, Central.

Classification: LCC DAW1051 .B44 2022 (print) | LCC DAW1051 (ebook) | DDC 320.5094—dc23/eng/20220429

LC record available at <https://lcn.loc.gov/2022016837>

LC ebook record available at <https://lcn.loc.gov/2022016838>

Typeface for the Latin, Greek, and Cyrillic scripts: "Brill". See and download: brill.com/brill-typeface.

ISSN 1568-5926

ISBN 978-90-04-51405-8 (hardback)

ISBN 978-90-04-51404-1 (e-book)

Copyright 2022 by Sanja Hajdinjak, Beatrice-Elena Chromková Manea and Roman Chytilek.

Published by Koninklijke Brill NV, Leiden, The Netherlands.

Koninklijke Brill NV incorporates the imprints Brill, Brill Nijhoff, Brill Hotei, Brill Schöningh, Brill Fink, Brill mentis, Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, Böhlau and V&R unipress.

Koninklijke Brill NV reserves the right to protect this publication against unauthorized use. Requests for re-use and/or translations must be addressed to Koninklijke Brill NV via brill.com or copyright.com.

This book is printed on acid-free paper and produced in a sustainable manner.

Contents

List of Figures and Tables VI

Notes on Contributors IX

Introduction: How Values and Attitudes Influence Illiberal Tendencies in Central Europe 1

Sanja Hajdinjak, Beatrice-Elena Chromková Manea, and Roman Chytilék

1 Political (Dis)Trust in Central Europe: Mechanisms and Regional Variation 12

Sanja Hajdinjak, Gorana Mišić, and Tamara Kolaric

2 The Voters of Populist Radical Right Parties in CEE: How Radical
Are They? 41

Roman Chytilék and Vlastimil Havlík

3 Are There Generational Differences in the Support for Democracy in Central European Countries? 74

Lukáš Linek and Aleš Vomáčka

4 Explaining Attitudes towards Immigrants and Immigration through the Lenses of National Identity and Political Culture 92

Beatrice-Elena Chromková Manea and Bernadette Nadya Jaworsky

5 Authoritarianism and Attitudes toward the Environment in Croatia:
A Central European Perspective 124

Krunoslav Nikodem and Tijana Trako Poljak

6 The Perception of Migrants in the Labor Market: The Czech
Experience 156

Martin Hrabálek

Index of Authors 179

Index of Term and Subjects 184

Figures and Tables

Figures

- 1.1 Confidence in government across CE (in %) 19
- 1.2 Confidence in government across CE by trust in the civil service (in %) 20
- 1.3 Confidence in government across CE by life satisfaction (in %) 21
- 1.4 Confidence in government across CE by ideological self-positioning (in %) 22
- 1.5 Confidence in government across CE by populist appeal (in %) 23
- 1.6 Confidence in government across CE by praying outside religious ceremonies (in %) 25
- 1.7 Confidence in government across CE by the role of men and women (in %) 26
- 1.8 Confidence in government across CE by the impact of immigrants on development (in %) 27
- 1.9 Confidence in government across CE by a preference for a strong leader (in %) 29
- 1.10 Confidence in government across CE by a perception of how democratically a country is governed (in %) 30
- 1.11 Confidence in government across CE by trust in the media (in %) 31
- 1.12 Confidence in government across CE by general trust (in %) 32
- 3.1 Support for democracy and authoritarian regimes in CEE countries (in %) 83
- 3.2 Regime preference by generations and country 86
- 4.1 Immigrant contributions to societal development in the receiving country (in %) 103
- 4.2 Effect of migration on the labor market, criminality, and the welfare system (mean) 104
- 4.3 Agreement rate with priority to nationals in the labor market in time of crisis (in %) 106
- 4.4 National pride in Central and Eastern Europe (in %) 107
- 4.5 National identity and its elements in Central and Eastern Europe (in %) 109
- 4.6 Subjective political efficacy in CEE (mean values) 110
- 4.7 Political interest in CEE countries (in %) 111
- 4.8 Trust in political institutions in CEE (mean values) 112
- 4.9 Democratic governance in CEE (mean values) 113
- 5.1 Willingness to give part of income to prevent environmental pollution in CE countries 1999–2017 (only agreement). Results in percentages 135

- 5.2 Personal interest in the protection of the environment (only agreement).
Results in percentages 138
- 5.3 Share of those who state that a “strong leader” is good to have in Central European countries 140
- 5.4 Share of those who state that greater respect for authority in the near future is good in Central European countries 141
- 5.5 Share of those who state that “Obedience is a quality which children can be encouraged to learn at home” in Central European countries 141
- 5.6 Share of those who state that homosexuality can never be justified 142
- 5.7 Share of those who state that abortion can never be justified 143
- 5.8 Share of those who state that divorce can never be justified 143
- 5.9 Share of those who state that euthanasia can never be justified 144
- 5.10 Share of those who state that having casual sex can never be justified 144
- 6.1 Unemployment rates in the Czech Republic 1993–2019 (in %) 163
- 6.2 General opinion on the employment of foreigners 2003–2019 (in %) 166
- 6.3 Do immigrants take jobs from Czechs? (mean values by education) 167
- 6.4 Do immigrants take jobs from Czechs? (mean values by income) 168
- 6.5 Preference of local workers over foreigners, based on education
(YES answers in %) 169
- 6.6 Do foreigners increase the overall unemployment?
(YES answers in %) 170
- 6.7 Employment of foreigners should be limited to areas with high unemployment
(YES answers in %) 170
- 6.8 Cheap foreign labor threatens the employment of Czech citizens
(YES answers in %) 171
- 6.9 While accepting new workers, it is acceptable to favor foreigners from EU countries over other foreigners (YES answers in %) 172

Tables

- 2.1 Independent variables 49
- 2.2 Evaluation of hypotheses 55
- 4.1 Factor analysis on attitudes towards immigrants and immigration in CEE countries 106
- 4.2 The impact of national identity and political culture on attitudes towards immigrants and immigration 115
- 4.3 Hypotheses’ testing – accepted 116
- 5.1 “Here are two statements people sometimes make when discussing the environment and economic growth. Which of them comes closer to your own point of view?” (in %) 135

- 5.2 Analysis between two statements about respondent's income and priority of economic growth versus protection of the environment (in %) 136
- 5.3 "I'm going to describe various types of political systems and ask what you think about each as a way of governing this country. For each one, would you say it is a very good, fairly good, fairly bad or very bad way of governing this country?". Results in percentages 139
- 5.4 Correlation between statements about the environment and economic growth and authoritarianism index 145
- 5.5 Correlation between indexes of environmental indifference and authoritarianism 145
- 5.6 Authoritarianism and basic socio-demographic items as correlates of environmental indifference in multiple regression analysis 146
- 6.1 Top 10 origin countries of migrants residing in the Czech Republic in 2018 162

Notes on Contributors

Beatrice-Elena Chromková Manea

Ph.D. (2011), Lecturer and researcher at the Department of Sociology, Masaryk University Brno (Czechia). She specialises in topics relating to the issue of value changes and population studies. She is the co-editor of the monograph Living apart together? Czechia and Slovakia through the lenses of value development after 1991.

Roman Chytilék

Ph.D. (2007), Masaryk University, is Associate Professor of Political Science at that university. He has published on populism, political parties and electoral competition from both the parties and voters' perspectives in journals such as Party Politics and Public Choice.

Sanja Hajdinjak

Ph.D. (2017), is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow at Ludwig Maximilian University in Munich, Germany. She is a published author in the fields of political economy and public policy with a specific interest in political and public administration institutions.

Vlastimil Havlík

Ph.D. (2009), is Associate Professor at the Department of Political Science, Masaryk University Brno. He regularly publishes texts dealing with populism and party politics (e.g. in East European Politics and Societies, Communist and Post-Communist Studies, or Problems of Post-Communism).

Martin Hrabálek

Ph.D. (2011), Mendel University in Brno, is Assistant Professor at the Department of Territorial studies at the Faculty of Regional Development and International Studies. He specializes in international development, Latin America and European Union, with focus on migration and border protection.

Tamara Kolarić

Ph.D. (2018), is an Assistant Professor in Politics and Sociology at the School of Applied Language and Intercultural Studies (SALIS), Dublin City University. Her research interests include the intersection between cinema, memory and politics, particularly in the countries of the former Yugoslavia, as well as political institutions and cultures in the Central Eastern Europe.

Lukáš Linek

Ph.D. (2009), Charles University, Prague, is Associate Professor of Sociology at that university. He has published monographs and articles on political attitudes and voting behaviour.

Gorana Mišić

Ph.D. (2018), is a Visiting Faculty at Eötvös Loránd University, Faculty of Education and Psychology. Her research interest focuses on political financing and money in politics, regulations and compliance, and anti-corruption policies.

Krunoslav Nikodem

Ph.D. (1971), is Professor at Department of Sociology, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Zagreb. From 1999 till today he is working on European Values Study project.

Tijana Trako Poljak

Ph.D. (2013), is Assistant Professor at Department of Sociology, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Zagreb. She currently leads Croatian Science Foundation project on rural development “SECRURAL” and is the Editor of journal “Social Ecology”.

Aleš Vomáčka

MA (2019), Charles University, Prague, is a PhD candidate at the Department of Sociology. His primary research interests are quantitative methodology and causal inference.