

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In order to write this book I had to rely on much help and advice. I am most grateful to Miss Melanie Barber, Lord Dacre, Mr Gérald Duverdier, Professor A. T. Grafton, Dr Remke Kruk, Dr H. Norris, Dr Pieter Obbema, Dr Susan Skilliter, Mr R. Smitskamp, Dr Joanna Weinberg and Dr J. J. Witkam. For their advice about Bedwell as a mathematician my thanks are due to Dr H. J. M. Bos, Dr Piers Bursill-Hall and Mr S. Engelsman. I am indebted to Professor Dominic Baker-Smith, Professor Jan Brugman, Dr David Freedberg, Professor J. D. Hunt, Dr Johan Kerling, Professor J. C. Lebram and Professor G. H. M. Posthumus Meyjes who read various drafts of my manuscript; to Dr Dilwyn Knox for his suggestions; to Dr Vello Helk, Mr Robert Jones, and Mr C. Wakefield for providing me with information derived from their own research; and, above all, to Dr H. J. de Jonge for his advice and encouragement. I thank, finally, the editor of the Publications of the Sir Thomas Browne Institute, Professor Jan van Dorsten, and the Nederlandse Organisatie voor Zuiver-Wetenschappelijk Onderzoek (ZWO), who provided me with a grant which enabled me to begin my research on William Bedwell and who have subsidised the publication of this book.

Abudacnus' letter to William Bedwell (fig. 5), MS.Bodl.Or. 298, fol. 4v, and the two pages from Bedwell's interleaved copy of Münster's Aramaic grammar (figs 1 and 2), MS.Laud Or. 172, are reproduced by courtesy of the Bodleian Library, Oxford. Peter Kirsten's letter to Bedwell (fig. 9), MS.Dd.3.12, fol. 3r, and the three photographs of Bedwell's Arabic lexicon (fig. 11), MS.Hh.6.2., fols 302v-303r, (fig. 12), MS.Hh.5.1, p. 19, (fig. 13), MS.Hh.5.6, p. 234, are reproduced by permission of the Syndics of the Cambridge University Library. The Bodleian Library has also authorised the publication of Letters 4 and 7 in Appendix I and of Prefaces 2 and 3 in Appendix II, while the Syndics of the Cambridge University Library have permitted the publication of Letters 8, 9, and 10 in Appendix I and of Preface 1 in Appendix II.