

PREFACE

On the occasion of the publication of my doctoral thesis at the State University of Utrecht, The Netherlands, I wish to thank my supervisor, Prof. Dr. H. W. Bodewitz, who kindly took the trouble to familiarize himself profoundly with the subject and whose critical remarks and suggestions have been of great value to me. To Dr. T. Goudriaan, who acted as co-referent, I am very deeply indebted for the kind and patient way in which he followed and supported my research in the field of Hindu Tantrism. Without the never failing support of his extensive knowledge of the subject and his dedication to it the present study would have suffered from many more shortcomings. Dr. M. Witzel has been of indispensable assistance in procuring microfilms of the manuscripts from the National Archives (Kathmandu), when he was stationed in the Valley for the German-Nepal Manuscript Preservation Project. The Institute of Oriental Languages (Utrecht) has shown every possible co-operation in acquiring the microfilms and in permitting me the use of the equipment to read them.

Although Prof. Dr. J. Gonda had no direct concern with the realization of this study I consider it a matter of personal obligation to express here my feelings of sincere gratitude and admiration towards this scholar: I have always regarded it a rare privilege to have had a guru of such qualities.

Finally I wish to thank my father, because he allowed me to become an Indologist, and whose support has always been very reliable. I am proud to have such a friend.

J. A. Schoterman,
Leiden, 1981.