

Special Judicial Mechanism for the Crime of Aggression
Committed against Ukraine

Developments in International Law

VOLUME 83

The titles published in this series are listed at brill.com/diil

Special Judicial Mechanism for the Crime of Aggression Committed against Ukraine

Edited by

Pavel Šturma and Milan Lipovský

BRILL | NIJHOFF

LEIDEN | BOSTON

This work was supported by UNCE – Human Rights Research Centre (HUM/011) and the Cooperatio (2022).

Library of Congress Control Number: 2025949040

Typeface for the Latin, Greek, and Cyrillic scripts: “Brill”. See and download: brill.com/brill-typeface.

ISSN 0924-5332

ISBN 978-90-04-74093-8 (hardback)

ISBN 978-90-04-74094-5 (e-book)

DOI 10.1163/9789004740945

Copyright 2026 by Pavel Šturma and Milan Lipovský. Published by Koninklijke Brill BV, Plantijnstraat 2, 2321 JC Leiden, The Netherlands.

Koninklijke Brill BV incorporates the imprints Brill, Brill Nijhoff, Brill Schöningh, Brill Fink, Brill mentis, Brill Wageningen Academic, Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, Böhlau and V&R unipress.

Koninklijke Brill BV reserves the right to protect this publication against unauthorized use. Requests for re-use and/or translations must be addressed to Koninklijke Brill BV via brill.com or copyright.com.

For more information: info@brill.com.

This book is printed on acid-free paper and produced in a sustainable manner.

Contents

Notes on Contributors VII

Introduction 1

Pavel Šturma and Milan Lipovský

PART 1

Negotiations of the Rome Statute, the Crime of Aggression, and the Mechanism for Crime of Aggression

- 1 The Assembly of States Parties and the Crime of Aggression: From Rome 1998 to 2025 9

Renan Villacis

- 2 United Nations, European Union, Council of Europe, and Core Group Activities in Creation of the Tribunal for the Crime of Aggression against Ukraine and the Role of the Czech Diplomacy 18

Emil Ruffer

PART 2

Structure and Alternatives of the Mechanism

- 3 Possible Ways to the Creation of the Special Tribunal for the Crime of Aggression 35

Pavel Šturma

- 4 Can States Find a Third Way to Structure a Crime of Aggression Tribunal for the Situation of Ukraine? 64

Jenniffer Trahan

PART 3The Crime of Aggression Definition and Immunities from Foreign Criminal Jurisdiction

- 5 Personal Scope of Responsibility for the Crime of Aggression: The Case of Russian Aggression against Ukraine 93

Patrycja Grzebyk

- 6 Relevance of Personal Immunities before Treaty-Based International Criminal Courts 115

Kristýna Urbanová

PART 4Trial Issues

- 7 The Shortest Trial of the Century?

How Judicial Notice of Facts of Common Knowledge Might Be Used in Criminal Prosecutions of Senior Leaders for the Crime of Aggression 149

Simon De Smet

- 8 Proceedings in Absentia in International Criminal Law and the Mechanism for Accountability for the Crime of Aggression Committed against Ukraine 174

Milan Lipovský

Bibliography 205

Index 228

Notes on Contributors

Simon De Smet

has served as a Legal Officer at the International Criminal Court since 2003. He has mainly worked in the Pre-Trial and Trial Divisions of the Court. Prior to joining the ICC, he served as a judicial fellow for Judges Thomas Buergenthal and Kooijmans at the International Court of Justice. He also teaches International Criminal Law at Cambridge University as an Affiliated Lecturer. His academic research focuses on evidence and methods of proof.

Patrycja Grzebyk

is a professor at the University of Warsaw, member of the Board of European Society of International Law, member of the International Law Association Committee on the Use of Force, member of the Council of Advisers of the Global Institute for the Prevention of Aggression, and President of the Network on Humanitarian Action. She graduated from the University of Warsaw (MA in Law, MA in International Relations, and Ph.D. in Political Science) and obtained her habilitation in law from the Institute of Legal Science of the Polish Academy of Science. Her field of research includes international humanitarian law, international criminal law, and law on use of force. She is an author of over 150 publications, including Criminal Responsibility for the Crime of Aggression, Routledge 2013; Human and Non-Human Targets in Armed Conflicts, Cambridge University Press 2022; The Russian-Ukrainian Conflict and War Crimes Challenges for Documentation and International Prosecution, Routledge 2025. She is an editor in chief of two international journals: ESIL Reflections and Journal of International Humanitarian Action.

Milan Lipovský

is lecturer and researcher at the Department of International Law, Faculty of Law, Charles University (Prague). He graduated (both Master's degree and Ph.D.) from the Charles University and focuses at international criminal law and the law of international peace and security. His Ph.D. thesis concerned the topic of the crime of aggression. He is member of the Czech Society of International Law and European Society of International Law. His latest publications include e.g., an article in the Polish Yearbook of International Law called: What is 'a Certain International Criminal Court' and does the Choice of a Fully International or Internationalized (Hybrid) Court/Chambers Matter for the Crime of Aggression Committed Against Ukraine? (2023).

Emil Ruffer

is a lawyer and diplomat, former Ambassador and Permanent Representative of the Czech Republic to the Council of Europe and currently a Deputy Legal Adviser and Director of International Law Department at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Czech Republic. He graduated from the Charles University, Faculty of Law and also studied Law and Politics at Cardiff University and undertook research as a Visiting Fulbright Scholar at the Fordham Law School. His field of research includes public international law and the external relations law of the European Union, and he holds Ph.D. in European and International law from the Charles University. He is a member of, inter alia, Czech Society of International Law and International Law Association Czech Branch.

Pavel Šturma

is a Full Professor of International Law at Charles University, Faculty of Law. Graduated from Charles University in law (1985), philosophy and economics (1992), and also studied at the Institut des Hautes Études Internationales (Université Paris 2 Panthéon-Assas). Before joining the teaching staff of the Faculty of Law, he served as a staff member of the United Nations Office at Vienna and a senior research fellow at the Institute of Law of the Czech Academy of Sciences. He was a member and former chairperson of the UN International Law Commission (2012-2022), member of the Czech national group at the Permanent Court of Arbitration, Judge ad hoc of the European Court of Human Rights, and Associated member of Institut de Droit International. President of the Czech Society of International Law and editor-in-chief of the Czech Yearbook of Public and Private International Law. He is the author or co-author of 21 books and more than 220 articles and studies in international law. He publishes in the field of state responsibility, international criminal law, international investment law, and immunities in international law.

Jennifer Trahan

is a professor at NYU's Center for Global Affairs. She is also Convenor of The Global Institute for the Prevention of Aggression and holds various positions with the American Branch of the ILA, including as Vice President. She is additionally one of the American members of the Use of Force Committee of the ILA. She graduated from Amherst College (AB), NYU School of Law (JD) and Columbia Law School (LL.M.). Her field of research includes the International Criminal Court, and particularly the crime of aggression, as well as the veto power of the UN Security Council, and other areas of international criminal law and public international law. Her most recent book is Legal Limits to Security Council Veto Power in the Face of Atrocity Crimes (Cambridge U. Press 2020).

Kristýna Urbanová

is a lecturer at Faculty of Law of the Charles University (Prague), a member of the Czech Bar Association. She graduated from the Charles University (Ph.D., Mgr.) and the University of Cambridge (LL.M.). Her main focus in the research area is on international criminal law.

Renán Villacís

is the Director of the Secretariat of the Assembly of States Parties of the International Criminal Court. He studied law at the University of Cuenca, Ecuador, and international relations at the School of Advanced International Studies, Johns Hopkins University, Washington D.C. Prior to joining the Secretariat of the Assembly, he had worked as a member of the Foreign Service of Ecuador and then as a legal officer in the Codification Division of the Office of Legal Affairs of the United Nations Secretariat in New York. Since 2006 he has been the Director of the Secretariat.

