

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This book is based on a Ph.D. dissertation in international law at the University of Cambridge (Darwin College), England, under the supervision of Professor Philip Allott (Trinity College).

The following chapters are revised versions of articles published elsewhere: Chapter 5. “The ‘Westphalian’ state system” was published in volume 2 of the Journal of the History of International Law in 2000; Chapter 6. “Bodin’s sovereignty: Power-centraliser” was published in volume 4 of the Melbourne Journal of International Law in 2003; and, Chapter 7. “Vattel’s sovereignty: Authority-externaliser” was published in volume 5 of the Journal of the History of International Law in 2003.