

THE FURNITURE FROM TUMULUS MM

Culture and History of the Ancient Near East

Founding Editor

M.H.E. Weippert

Editor-in-Chief

Thomas Schneider

Editors

Eckart Frahm, W. Randall Garr, B. Halpern,
Theo P.J. van den Hout, Irene J. Winter

VOLUME 32.1

THE GORDION WOODEN OBJECTS
VOLUME I

THE FURNITURE FROM TUMULUS MM

Elizabeth Simpson

ILLUSTRATIONS

With contributions by

Harry Alden	Benjamin Held
Burhan Aytuğ	Walter Hopwood
Mary W. Ballard	Joseph Koles
Robert A. Blanchette	Patrick E. McGovern
Roland Cunningham	Lynn E. Roller
Laure Dussubieux	Krysia Spirydowicz

BRILL

LEIDEN • BOSTON
2010

This book is printed on acid-free paper.

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Simpson, Elizabeth, 1947-

The furniture from Tumulus MM / Elizabeth Simpson ; with contributions by Krysia Spirydowicz ... [et al.].

p. cm. – (University Museum monograph. Gordion special studies ; 4)

(Culture and history of the ancient Near East ; 32, v. 1)

A two-vol. set. First vol. is text; second vol. is illustrations.

ISBN 978-90-04-16539-7 (v. 1 & 2 : alk. paper) 1. Gordion (Extinct city) 2. Furniture—Turkey—Gordion (Extinct city) 3. Excavations (Archaeology)—Turkey—Gordion (Extinct city) 4. Turkey—Antiquities. I. Spirydowicz, Krysia. II. Title. III. Series.

DS156.G6S56 2009

684.100939'26—dc22

2008019707

ISSN: 1566-2055

ISBN: 978 90 04 16539 7

Copyright 2010 by Koninklijke Brill NV, Leiden, The Netherlands.
Koninklijke Brill NV incorporates the imprints Brill, Hotei Publishing,
IDC Publishers, Martinus Nijhoff Publishers and VSP.

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, translated, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without prior written permission from the publisher.

Authorization to photocopy items for internal or personal use is granted by Koninklijke Brill NV provided that the appropriate fees are paid directly to The Copyright Clearance Center, 222 Rosewood Drive, Suite 910, Danvers, MA 01923, USA.
Fees are subject to change.

PRINTED IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

CONTENTS

List of Color Plates .....	VII
List of Figures .....	IX
List of Plates .....	XIII
List of CD-Figures .....	XXI

Color Plates

Figures

Plates

CD-Figures (located on the CD inside the back cover)

LIST OF COLOR PLATES

- Frontispiece Reconstruction of the funeral ceremony held before the burial of the king.
- Color Plate I The excavation of Tumulus MM.
A. Tumulus MM during its excavation in 1957.
B. Remains of the king and his log coffin, as found in 1957.
- Color Plate II The excavation of Tumulus MM.
A. East ledge of the coffin, as it fell outward onto the tomb floor. Top of Table 9, at right, with the bag of bronze fibulae that fell from the table when it collapsed.
B. Furniture fragments in the northeast corner, with the fibulae removed and some pieces repositioned.
- Color Plate III The excavation of Tumulus MM.
A. The serving stands leaning against the east wall of the tomb, with the inlaid table to the south. Tables 1, 4, and 5 are visible in the foreground.
B. The inlaid table as it was found in 1957.
- Color Plate IV The excavation of Tumulus MM.
A. Serving stand A, with a bronze omphalos bowl found leaning against the face.
B. Serving stand B with a small bronze cauldron, ladle, and other vessels that had fallen behind it.
- Color Plate V The excavation of Tumulus MM.
A. Table 2 and bronze omphalos bowls. Table 3 is in the background.
B. Tables 2 and 3 (far left) and large cauldrons (MM 2 and MM 3) at the south of the tomb.
- Color Plate VI Bronzes from Tumulus MM.
A. Large bronze cauldron (MM 2), with pottery jars containing the remains of food.
B. Small bronze cauldron (MM 10), found behind serving stand B.
C. Bronze ladle (MM 47), found behind serving stand A.
- Color Plate VII Bronzes from Tumulus MM.
A. Bronze lion-headed situla (MM 45), before cleaning; found partly behind serving stand A.
B. Bronze ram-headed situla (MM 46), after cleaning; found behind serving stand A.
- Color Plate VIII The inlaid table as assembled for display in the Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, 1989.
- Color Plate IX The inlaid table, mounted for display, seen from the left rear corner of the table.
- Color Plate X Color diagrams of serving stand A, showing the main designs, derivatives, and design groups (see also CD-Figures 66–69).
- Color Plate XI Color diagrams of serving stand B, showing the main designs, derivatives, and design groups (see also CD-Figures 70–73).
- Color Plate XII Serving stand A, assembled for display in the Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, 1999.
- Color Plate XIII Serving stand A, as mounted for display, back view.
- Color Plate XIV Serving stand B, assembled for display in the Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, 1999.

Color Plate XV Serving stand B, as mounted for display, back view.

Color Plate XVI Replicas and reconstructions.

A. Replica of the Tumulus MM chamber, Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, 1993, containing a reproduction of the coffin and original bronzes from the tomb.

B. Artist Richard Neave from the University of Manchester putting the finishing touches on a reconstruction of the head of "King Midas."

LIST OF FIGURES

- Figure 1 Early reconstruction drawing of the inlaid table from Tumulus MM. Dorothy Cox.
- Figure 2 Early drawing of “screen A,” as seen from the back. Dorothy Cox.
- Figure 3 Early drawings of the king’s “bed,” reconstructed from Young’s field notes and subsequent publications.
- Figure 4 Inlaid table. Schematic top plan, with the table top and decorative top struts removed.
- Figure 5 Inlaid table. Front frame piece (frame piece A) with decorative top struts.
- Figure 6 Inlaid table. Back frame piece (frame piece D) with decorative top struts.
- Figure 7 Inlaid table. Right frame piece (frame piece B) with decorative top struts.
- Figure 8 Inlaid table. Left frame piece (frame piece C) with decorative top struts.
- Figure 9 Inlaid table. Mazes on the frame.
- Figure 10 Inlaid table. Right leg strut (leg strut B).
- Figure 11 Inlaid table. Left leg strut (leg strut C).
- Figure 12 Inlaid table. Front leg strut (leg strut A).
- Figure 13 Inlaid table. Handle at left on front frame piece (handle A<sub>1</sub>).
- Figure 14 Inlaid table. Handle at right on front frame piece (handle A<sub>5</sub>).
- Figure 15 Inlaid table. Handle at left on back frame piece (handle D<sub>1</sub>).
- Figure 16 Inlaid table. Handle at right on back frame piece (handle D<sub>5</sub>).
- Figure 17 Inlaid table. Mazes on the handles.
- Figure 18 Inlaid table. Left rear leg (leg C).
- Figure 19 Inlaid table. Front leg (leg A).
- Figure 20 Inlaid table. Right rear leg (leg B).
- Figure 21 Inlaid table. Reconstruction drawing.
- Figure 22 Inlaid table. Inlaid bands on the table’s leg tops.
- Figure 23 Inlaid table. Inlay on the tops of the table’s feet.
- Figure 24 Inlaid table. Isometric reconstruction of the joinery at the corners of the frame.
- Figure 25 Inlaid table. Reconstruction of one of the missing corner pieces, in its simplest possible form.
- Figure 26 Inlaid table. Construction details showing the way in which the decorative struts that supported the table top were joined to the top and frame.
- Figure 27 Inlaid table. Construction details showing the way in which the legs were attached to the table top.
- Figure 28 Inlaid table. Grain configuration on the left rear leg (leg C).
- Figure 29 Plain tables. Legs of the eight plain tables (tables 1–7 and 9).
- Figure 30 Profiles of the tops of the eight plain tables and the inlaid table.
- Figure 31 Table 1. Sections of the legs and diagram of the table as seen from the top.
- Figure 32 Table 2. Sections of the legs and diagram of the table as seen from the top.
- Figure 33 Table 2. Grain configuration on both sides of the front leg.
- Figure 34 Table 2. Grain configuration on both sides of the right rear leg.
- Figure 35 Table 3. Sections of the legs and diagram of the table as seen from the top.
- Figure 36 Table 4. Sections of the legs and diagram of the table as seen from the top.
- Figure 37 Table 5. Sections of the legs and diagram of the table as seen from the top.
- Figure 38 Table 5. Sections of the legs and table top.
- Figure 39 Table 5. Section and diagram of the left rear leg, showing details of the table’s construction.

- Figure 40 Table 5. Reconstruction drawing.
- Figure 41 Table 6. Section of leg and diagram of the table as seen from the top.
- Figure 42 Table 7. Section of legs and diagram of the table as seen from the top.
- Figure 43 Table 9. Section of leg and diagram of the table as seen from the top.
- Figure 44 Serving stand A. Sections and top view of the carved top piece of the stand.
- Figure 45 Serving stand A. Inlaid right edge of the stand's face with adjoining inlaid right side piece.
- Figure 46 Serving stand A. Inlaid left edge of the stand's face with adjoining inlaid left side piece.
- Figure 47 Serving stand A. Side view of the stand, reconstructed, showing construction details.
- Figure 48 Serving stand A. Back view of the stand, reconstructed, showing construction details.
- Figure 49 Serving stand A. Diagram of the front face, showing construction details.
- Figure 50 Serving stand A. Front face of the stand with inlaid decoration.
- Figure 51 Serving stand A. Reconstruction drawing, back view.
- Figure 52 Serving stand B. Sections and top view of the carved top piece of the stand.
- Figure 53 Serving stand B. Inlaid right edge of the stand's face with adjoining inlaid right side piece.
- Figure 54 Serving stand B. Inlaid left edge of the stand's face with adjoining inlaid left side piece.
- Figure 55 Serving stand B. Side view of the stand, reconstructed, showing construction details.
- Figure 56 Serving stand B. Back view of the stand, reconstructed, showing construction details.
- Figure 57 Serving stand B. Diagram of the front face, showing construction details.
- Figure 58 Serving stand B. Front face of the stand with inlaid decoration.
- Figure 59 Serving stand B. Reconstruction drawing, back view.
- Figure 60 Serving stand A. Left front foot block, showing construction details.
- Figure 61 Serving stand B. Right front foot block, showing construction details.
- Figure 62 Serving stand A. Front face of the stand, with numbered boards and graffiti locations.
- Figure 63 Serving stand A. Graffiti on tenons (A1–A7).
- Figure 64 Serving stand B. Front face of the stand, with numbered boards and graffiti locations.
- Figure 65 Serving stand B. Graffiti on tenons (B1–B3).
- Figure 66 Serving stands. Graffiti on broken tenons.
- Figure 67 Serving stands. Inlaid rosettes at left below central medallions.
- Figure 68 Serving stands. Method of cutting and joining segments of wood to make the inlaid designs.
- Figure 69 Serving stands. Inlay method, showing a meander square from serving stand A (row 2, square 11) and the segments from which it was made.
- Figure 70 Serving stand B. Inlay method, showing the background inlay and the guidelines used to lay out the patterns.
- Figure 71 Serving stands. Evolution of the swastika design symmetrical with respect to rotations of 180 degrees.
- Figure 72 Serving stand A. Inlaid meander squares that occur on the face of the stand.
- Figure 73 Serving stand A. Diagram of the face of the stand showing the positions of the numbered designs.
- Figure 74 Serving stand B. Inlaid meander squares that occur on the face of the stand.
- Figure 75 Serving stand B. Diagram of the face of the stand showing the positions of the numbered designs.
- Figure 76 Reconstructed stool leg (“short leg”) from the northeast corner of the tomb.
- Figure 77 Fragmentary carved stretcher from the northeast corner of the tomb.
- Figure 78 Carved stretcher from the northeast corner, reconstructed, with the slats that fitted into its lower edge.
- Figure 79 Coffin. Diagram showing the way that the height and position of the east ledge were ascertained.
- Figure 80 Coffin. Reconstructed side view, looking north, as placed in the tomb.
- Figure 81 Coffin. Reconstructed side view, as placed in the tomb, with cross-section of the coffin body, corner-block cuttings, nail holes, and the slat on the slope below the east ledge indicated by dashed lines.
- Figure 82 Coffin. Side view, as assembled for the ceremony before the burial.
- Figure 83 Coffin. Reconstruction as placed in the tomb, seen from above.

- Figure 84 Coffin. Reconstruction as placed in the tomb, with the edges of the corner blocks and pieces of the rails that were covered by the coffin body indicated by dashed lines.
- Figure 85 Coffin. Schematic reconstruction as placed in the tomb, top view, with the rails reconstructed to their original form and length.
- Figure 86 Coffin. Reconstruction, as assembled for the ceremony, seen from above.
- Figure 87 Coffin. Reconstruction, as placed in the tomb, viewed from the east end.
- Figure 88 Coffin. Reconstruction, as placed in the tomb, from the east, with cross-section of the body, corner-block cuttings, nail holes, and rails indicated by dashed lines.
- Figure 89 Coffin. Reconstruction, as assembled for the ceremony, seen from the east end.
- Figure 90 Coffin. View as assembled for the ceremony, before it was disassembled for placement in the tomb.
- Figure 91 Comparanda. Inlaid serving stand from Tumulus P, Gordion. Reconstruction drawing of the front face.
- Figure 92 Comparanda. Pebble mosaic from Megaron 2 in the destruction level of the city mound, Gordion.
- Figure 93 Comparanda. Büyük Kapı Kaya. Drawing of the façade.
- Figure 94 Comparanda. “Doodle stone” drawing from the city mound, Gordion (ST 263a).
- Figure 95 Comparanda. “Doodle stone” drawing from the city mound, Gordion (uncatalogued, DSD 29).
- Figure 96 Comparanda. “Doodle stone” drawing from the city mound, Gordion (ST 436).
- Figure 97 Comparanda. “Doodle stone” drawing from the city mound, Gordion (ST 450).
- Figure 98 Comparanda. “Doodle stone” drawing from the city mound, Gordion (ST 841).
- Figure 99 Comparanda. “Doodle stone” drawing from the city mound, Gordion (ST 446, left).

LIST OF PLATES

- Plate 1 Inlaid table in situ in the Tumulus MM chamber.
- Plate 2 Inlaid table. Dowels from the inner support structure.
- Plate 3 Inlaid table. Front frame piece (frame piece A).
A. Frame piece A, with decorative top struts.
B. Frame piece A, without top struts, back view.
- Plate 4 Inlaid table. Decorative top struts from the front frame piece (frame piece A).
A–D. Handle A<sub>1</sub>, four views.
E–F. Strut A<sub>2</sub>, front and back views.
G–H. Strut A<sub>3</sub>, front and back views.
- Plate 5 Inlaid table. Decorative top struts from the front frame piece (frame piece A).
A–B. Strut A<sub>4</sub>, front and back views.
C–F. Handle A<sub>5</sub>, four views.
- Plate 6 Inlaid table. Inlaid panels on the front frame piece (frame piece A).
- Plate 7 Inlaid table. Curved front leg strut (leg strut A).
- Plate 8 Inlaid table. Front leg strut, pieces at upper left and right.
- Plate 9 Inlaid table. Inlaid details on front leg strut, bottom piece.
- Plate 10 Inlaid table. Inlaid details on front leg strut, bottom piece.
- Plate 11 Inlaid table. Right frame piece (frame piece B).
A. Frame piece B, with decorative top struts.
B. Frame piece B, without top struts, back view.
- Plate 12 Inlaid table. Decorative top struts from the right frame piece (frame piece B).
A–B. Strut B<sub>1</sub>, front and back views.
C–D. Strut B<sub>2</sub>, front and back views.
E–F. Strut B<sub>3</sub>, front and back views.
G–H. Strut B<sub>4</sub>, front and back views.
- Plate 13 Inlaid table. Inlaid panels on the right frame piece (frame piece B).
- Plate 14 Inlaid table. Right leg strut (leg strut B).
- Plate 15 Inlaid table. Left frame piece (frame piece C).
A. Frame piece C, with decorative top struts.
B. Frame piece C, without top struts, back view.
- Plate 16 Inlaid table. Decorative top struts from the left frame piece (frame piece C).
A–B. Strut C<sub>1</sub>, front and back views.
C–D. Strut C<sub>2</sub>, front and back views.
E–F. Strut C<sub>3</sub>, front and back views.
G–H. Strut C<sub>4</sub>, front and back views.
- Plate 17 Inlaid table. Inlaid panels on the left frame piece (frame piece C).
- Plate 18 Inlaid table. Left leg strut (leg strut C).
- Plate 19 Inlaid table. Back frame piece (frame piece D).
A. Frame piece D, with decorative top struts.
B. Frame piece D, without top struts, back view.
- Plate 20 Inlaid table. Decorative top struts from the back frame piece (frame piece D).
A–D. Handle D<sub>1</sub>, four views.
E–F. Strut D<sub>2</sub>, front and back views.
G–H. Strut D<sub>3</sub>, front and back views.

- Plate 21 Inlaid table. Decorative top struts from the back frame piece (frame piece D).
A–B. Strut D<sub>4</sub>, front and back views.
C–E. Handle D<sub>5</sub>, four views.
- Plate 22 Inlaid table. Inlaid panels on the back frame piece (frame piece D).
- Plate 23 Inlaid table. Left front corner of the table, showing the joinery and residue that is the evidence for the missing corner piece.
- Plate 24 Inlaid table. Front leg (leg A), left side and front views.
- Plate 25 Inlaid table. Front leg (leg A), right side and back views.
- Plate 26 Inlaid table. Right leg (leg B), left side and front views.
- Plate 27 Inlaid table. Right leg (leg B), right side and back views.
- Plate 28 Inlaid table. Left leg (leg C), left side and front views.
- Plate 29 Inlaid table. Left leg (leg C), right side and back views.
- Plate 30 Inlaid table. Carved, inlaid top sections of legs A, B, and C.
- Plate 31 Inlaid table. Details of the feet of the table's three legs.
- Plate 32 Inlaid table. Fragments of the table top.
- Plate 33 The inlaid table as reconstructed.
- Plate 34 The inlaid table as reconstructed, front view.
- Plate 35 The inlaid table as reconstructed, back view.
- Plate 36 Plain tables. Tables 1–5 and 6–7 in situ in the tomb.
- Plate 37 Table 1, after removal from the tomb.
- Plate 38 Table 1, face down, after early treatment with wax and attachment of the legs to the top.
- Plate 39 Table 1. Legs.
- Plate 40 Table 1. Table top, top view.
- Plate 41 Table 1. Table top, underside.
- Plate 42 Table 2, after removal from the tomb.
- Plate 43 Table 2. Legs.
- Plate 44 Table 2. Table top, top view.
- Plate 45 Table 2. Table top, underside.
- Plate 46 Table 3, after removal from the tomb.
- Plate 47 Table 3. Legs.
- Plate 48 Table 3. Table top, top view.
- Plate 49 Table 3. Table top, underside.
- Plate 50 Table 4, after removal from the tomb.
- Plate 51 Table 4. Legs.
- Plate 52 Table 4. Table top, top view.
- Plate 53 Table 4. Table top, underside.
- Plate 54 Table 5, in situ in the tomb.
- Plate 55 Table 5, after removal from the tomb.
- Plate 56 Table 5, in a wooden storage drawer in the Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, 1965.
- Plate 57 Table 5. Legs.
- Plate 58 Table 5. Table top, top view.
- Plate 59 Table 5. Table top, underside.
- Plate 60 Table 6, after removal from the tomb.
- Plate 61 Table 6. Legs.
- Plate 62 Table 6. Table top, fragmentary remains, top view.
- Plate 63 Table 7, after removal from the tomb.
- Plate 64 Table 7. Legs and detail showing the way the leg tenons fit into the collars of the table top.
- Plate 65 Table 7. Table top, fragmentary remains, top view.
- Plate 66 Table 9, after removal from the tomb.
- Plate 67 Table 9. Remains of legs and fragments of collars from the table top.
- Plate 68 Table 9. Large fragment of the table top, top view and underside.
- Plate 69 Serving stands A and B leaning against the east wall of the tomb chamber.
- Plate 70 Serving stand A in situ in the tomb chamber.

- Plate 71 Serving stand A, as removed from the tomb.
- Plate 72 Serving stand A. Face, front view, after cleaning and conservation.
- Plate 73 Serving stand A. Face, back view, after cleaning and conservation.
- Plate 74 Serving stand A. Carved top piece.
- Plate 75 Serving stand A. Back piece and diagonal back struts; short back strut.
- Plate 76 Serving stand A. Inlaid side pieces.
- Plate 77 Serving stand A. Detail of central rosette.
- Plate 78 Serving stand A, assembled for display in the Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, 1999.
- Plate 79 Serving stand A, as mounted for display, back view.
- Plate 80 Serving stand B, as found in the tomb.
- Plate 81 Serving stand B, as removed from the tomb.
- Plate 82 Serving stand B. Face, front view, after cleaning and conservation.
- Plate 83 Serving stand B. Face, back view, after cleaning and conservation.
- Plate 84 Serving stand B. Carved top piece.
- Plate 85 Serving stand B. Back piece and diagonal back struts; short back strut.
- Plate 86 Serving stand B. Inlaid side pieces.
- Plate 87 Serving stand B. Detail of central rosette.
- Plate 88 Serving stand B, assembled for display in the Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, 1999.
- Plate 89 Serving stand B, as mounted for display, back view.
- Plate 90 Serving stand A. Details of the right front foot.
- Plate 91 Serving stand A. Details of the left front foot.
- Plate 92 Serving stand B. Details of the left and right front feet.
- Plate 93 Serving stand A. Graffiti on tenons (A1–A7).
- Plate 94 Serving stand B. Graffiti on tenons (B1–B3); graffiti on loose tenons.
- Plate 95 Serving stands. Details of inlay wedges.
- Plate 96 Serving stands. Inlay at top of left and right side boards.
- Plate 97 Serving stands. Details of inlay over pegs, joints, and patches.
- Plate 98 Serving stands. Details of joinery.
- Plate 99 Serving stands. Main designs on serving stands A and B.
- Plate 100 Furniture from the northeast corner. Fragmentary furniture remains in situ in the tomb chamber.
- Plate 101 Furniture from the northeast corner. “Short legs” and other fragments, as removed from the tomb.
- Plate 102 Furniture from the northeast corner. “Medium legs” and other fragments, as removed from the tomb.
- Plate 103 Furniture from the northeast corner. “Long legs” and other fragments, as removed from the tomb.
- Plate 104 Furniture from the northeast corner. Carved stretcher, main fragment and details.
- Plate 105 Furniture from the northeast corner.
A. Carved stretcher, main fragment, with two adjoining slats.
B. Largest fragment from the group of “short legs.”
- Plate 106 Miscellaneous.
A. Leg fragments, with carved molding, possibly from the northeast corner.
B. Textile fragment, with impression of cording from a seat.
C. Clumps of plaster, possibly used as fill for imperfections in wooden furniture.
- Plate 107 Coffin in situ in the Tumulus MM chamber.
- Plate 108 Coffin. East ledge in situ.
- Plate 109 Coffin. Remains near the west wall of the tomb.
- Plate 110 Coffin. Rails in situ on the tomb floor.
A. South rail uncovered, looking north.
B. Both rails uncovered, looking north.
- Plate 111 Coffin. East ledge.
- Plate 112 Coffin. East and west ledges, with the iron bars that served as reinforcements.
- Plate 113 Coffin. Iron fragments associated with the coffin.

- Plate 114 Coffin.
 A–B. Iron bosses associated with the coffin.
 C. Coffin rails. Fragments of the long rails.
 D. Coffin rails. Fragments of the short rails.
- Plate 115 Coffin. Corner blocks.
- Plate 116 Comparanda.
 A. Detail of the stone tablet of Nabû-apla-iddina from Sippar. Neo-Babylonian. British Museum.
 B. Cult statue of the goddess Narundi, dedicated by Puzur-Inshushinak at Susa. Louvre.
 C. Initiates in Arnhem Land, Australia, wearing painted “genealogical patterns.”
 D. Two dancing maidens, shown on a sherd (P 3763) from the city mound, Gordion.
- Plate 117 Comparanda.
 A. Clay figurine from Cucuteni, Moldavia. National Antiquities Museum, Bucharest.
 B. North Syrian ivory horse frontlet (BI 432), found in the Terrace Building (TB 2), Gordion.
 C. Orientalizing period amphora, Boeotia. National Archaeological Museum, Athens.
- Plate 118 Comparanda.
 A. Relief of Matar from Gordion (S 59). Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, Ankara.
 B. Relief of Matar from Ankara/Bahçelievler. Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, Ankara.
 C. Head of Matar from Salmanköy. Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, Ankara.
 D. Relief of Kubaba from Carchemish. Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, Ankara.
- Plate 119 Comparanda.
 A. Statue group from Boğazköy. Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, Ankara.
 B. Double idol from Faharet Çeşme, set into a wall at the site of a spring.
 C. Relief with enthroned figure (S 86), Gordion.
 D. Relief of King Warpalawas, Ivriz.
- Plate 120 Comparanda. Arslan Kaya.
- Plate 121 Comparanda.
 A. Arslan Kaya. Detail of the scene in the niche showing the goddess Matar with her attendant lions.
 B. Büyük Kapı Kaya. Matar, in the niche, was once flanked by two figures that are now missing.
- Plate 122 Comparanda.
 A. Pair of stone lions, Göllüdağ.
 B. Stone lion, Gordion (S 35).
 C. Stone lion, Gordion (S 43).
- Plate 123 Comparanda. Midas Monument, Midas City.
- Plate 124 Appendix 1.
 A. Removal of wax and dirt from fragments of the inlaid table using toluene.
 B. First mount for the inlaid table, showing damage to the acrylic sheet.
 C. Board from serving stand B (board 5) during cleaning.
- Plate 125 Appendix 1.
 A. Large steel tank first employed for consolidation of the serving stands in 1983.
 B. Excavation of fills of wax and sawdust prior to the removal of the legs of table 1.
- Plate 126 Appendix 1.
 A. Table 1 during treatment: softening of wax by application of a solvent-gel poultice.
 B. Wax residue on the surface of table 1 after consolidation.
 C. Fragments of table 6 encased in silkscreen pouches and sewn to the metal tray in preparation for consolidation.
- Plate 127 Appendix 1.
 A. Ethafoam storage mount for the carved stretcher from the northeast corner of the tomb.
 B. Placing fragments of table 5 in a storage mount of ethafoam and Plexiglas.

- Plate 128 Appendix 1. Legs of table 2 and table 4 housed in the new steel storage cabinets in their mounts of ethafoam and Goretex.
- Plate 129 Appendix 2.
A. Pieces of the inlaid table laid out in preparation for its reconstruction in 1983.
B. Installation of the newly mounted table in its display case in the Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, Ankara, 1983.
- Plate 130 Appendix 2.
A. Constructing the Plexiglas frame for the inlaid table's second mount, 1989.
B. Attaching the struts and frame pieces to the new mount.
C. Fitting the curved metal supports for the table's legs.
D. The new metal leg supports attached to the original iron tripod stand.
- Plate 131 Appendix 2.
A. Plexiglas backing for the right rear leg strut being attached to the new mount.
B. Painting the angle deck with shellac, after the old glue had been stripped from the surface.
C. The angle deck covered with fabric, attached without the use of adhesives.
- Plate 132 Appendix 2.
A. The newly mounted table being returned to the exhibition hall of the museum, 1989.
B. Adding the evil-eye charm to the display.
- Plate 133 Appendix 2.
A. Parts of the top pieces, side pieces, back pieces, and diagonal back struts of the serving stands, as sorted out in 1983.
B. Attaching the wood of serving stand A to the Plexiglas backing, 1984.
- Plate 134 Appendix 2.
A. Making the Plexiglas replacement leg for the face of serving stand A.
B. Two iron stands that supported the Plexiglas mounts of the serving stands.
C. The wood of serving stand A being attached to the mount.
- Plate 135 Appendix 2.
A. The serving stands on display on their first mounts, 1984.
B. Transporting the serving stands back to the museum laboratory in preparation for remounting, 1999.
- Plate 136 Appendix 2.
A. Reconditioning the old Plexiglas mount of one of the serving stands.
B. Cleaning the top piece of serving stand B.
- Plate 137 Appendix 2.
A. Sculpting metal hooks for the new mounts.
B. Painting the padded metal hooks.
C. Reattaching the wood of serving stand A to its Plexiglas mount.
- Plate 138 Appendix 2.
A. Attaching the wooden side pieces and back struts to the mount of serving stand B.
B. The two serving stands on display in their new case, 1999.
- Plate 139 Appendix 4. Transverse and radial sections of sound Juglans and Buxus.
- Plate 140 Appendix 4. Transverse and radial sections of sound Cedrus, Juniperus, and Taxus.
- Plate 141 Appendix 4. Transverse sections of decay in wood from the tops of table 6, table 7, and table 4.
- Plate 142 Appendix 4. Degraded areas in wood from the tops of table 9 and table 4, with wood borer damage and frass present in voids in the wood.
- Plate 143 Appendix 4. Transverse sections from boxwood legs of table 2 and table 7.
- Plate 144 Appendix 4. Radial sections of vessel elements from fragments of the top of table 6, showing thickenings in walls of the vessels characteristic of Acer or Prunus.
- Plate 145 Appendix 4. Transverse sections of decayed wood from the tops of the inlaid table and serving stand A.
- Plate 146 Appendix 4. Transverse sections of wood from the tops of table 6, table 7, table 5, serving stand B, and leg of table 9, showing ultrastructural characteristics of soft rot.

- Plate 147 Appendix 4. Scanning electron micrographs showing decay in wood from the coffin body and northeast corner block.
- Plate 148 Appendix 4. Soft-rot cavities in radial sections of decayed pine wood from the northeast corner block, Cedrus coffin body, and sound cells of Taxus showing helical thickenings.
- Plate 149 Appendix 4. Iron pseudomorphs of wood cells found in the coffin near iron bars and nails.
- Plate 150 Appendix 7.
A. Tenon fragments from serving stand A or B, with fine, straight saw cuttings.
B. Tenon fragment from serving stand A or B, with marks of a chisel that was held at an angle, producing side compression of the wood fibers.
C. Tenon from serving stand B, with clearly visible tool marks caused by a nicked chisel.
D. Detail of the foot of the left rear leg (leg C) of the inlaid table, showing a line of drilled holes in a channel that had held a strip of inlay.
- Plate 151 Appendix 7.
A. Detail of handle A5, showing two of the recesses that had once held inlay.
B. Detail of the face of serving stand B, showing a line of drilled holes used to facilitate the carving of a channel for a strip of inlay.
C. Top of the right rear leg of table 5, showing evidence of an ancient repair.
D. Tenon of the front leg of table 5, with the hole drilled for the wood pin that secured the tenon in the collar of the table top.
- Plate 152 Appendix 7.
A. Bottom of the foot of one of the legs of table 7, showing the compass marks used to determine the shape of the foot.
B. Underside of one of the collars of table 6, showing a section of the compass-inscribed circle used to define the position of the mortise.
C. Boxwood trees at Carter's Grove, Virginia, showing bent branches of the sort used to make the legs of the plain tables from Tumulus MM.
- Plate 153 Appendix 8. Woven textile from the coffin (sample 2003-Tx-1).
A. Scanning electron micrograph (SEM) showing plain weave (tabby) with microbial debris and mechanical damage.
B. Detail of individual fibers within a single yarn (SEM).
C. Detail of a single yarn, after solvent cleaning to remove microbial debris (SEM).
D. Evidence of sheath remaining: detail of individual fibers within a single yarn after solvent cleaning (SEM).
- Plate 154 Appendix 8.
A. Woven textile from the coffin (2003-Tx-1). Hollow core of extant fiber shape: detail of damaged condition of individual fibers (SEM).
B. Woven textile from the coffin (2003-Tx-1). Nonfibrous surface of individual fibers (SEM).
C. "Mattress" material from the coffin (2003-Tx-5). Mass on surface (SEM).
D. "Mattress" material from the coffin (2003-Tx-5). Detail of Plate 154C, indicating microbial origins of fine strands (SEM).
- Plate 155 Appendix 8.
A. Cushion or upholstery on "stool #2," northeast corner (2003-Tx-6). Detail of two layers on the upper surface, with fragments and impressions of the fine threads.
B. Cushion or upholstery on "stool #2," northeast corner (2003-Tx-6). Detail of extant woven structure on the underside. The cording that was once strung across the seat stretchers of the stool is also visible on this sample.
C. "Bag" on "stool #2," northeast corner (2003-Tx-7). Fine dark yarn of the fabric (SEM).
D. "Bag" on "stool #2" northeast corner (2003-Tx-7). Detail of Plate 155C, showing the fragmentary and degraded condition of the fibrous mass (SEM).

- Plate 156 Appendix 8.
- A. “Bag” on “stool #2,” northeast corner (2003-Tx-8, front). Detail, showing the tendency of the dark fibers to crack, a property of the degradation of fiber (SEM).
  - B. “Bag” on “stool #2,” northeast corner (2003-Tx-8, front). Detail of a single yarn, an amalgamated mass (SEM).
  - C. “Bag” on “stool #2,” northeast corner (2003-Tx-8, back). Yarn from a second fabric on the fragment (SEM). This fabric is tan in color and a balanced plain weave.
  - D. “Bag” on “stool #2,” northeast corner (2003-Tx-8, back). Detail of Plate 156C showing the tan yarn, which has a coagulated and coated surface (SEM).
- Plate 157 Appendix 8. Cloth from the floor behind serving stand A (2003-Tx-11, Yarn #1).
- A. Example of the finely spun yarn found in the cache of this sample, after the removal of surface debris by solvent cleaning (SEM).
  - B. Detail of the finely spun yarn shown in Plate 157A (SEM).
  - C. The fibers of the smooth strands, with coated surface (SEM).
  - D. The fibers of the smooth strands are seen to be hollow, with coated surface (SEM).
- Plate 158 Appendix 8.
- A. Cloth from floor behind serving stand A (2003-Tx-11, Yarn #1). Detail of Plate 157B, showing the longitudinal surface of the yarn’s fiber (SEM).
  - B. Cloth from floor behind serving stand A (2003-Tx-11, Yarn #2). Example of dark (black) yarn found in the cache of this sample, after the removal of surface debris by solvent cleaning (SEM).
  - C. Cloth from floor behind serving stand A (2003-Tx-11, Yarn #2). Detail of a strand of dark yarn shown in Plate 158B (SEM).
  - D. Cloth from floor behind serving stand A (2003-Tx-11, Yarn #2). Detail of Plate 158C, showing evidence of microbial activity (SEM).

LIST OF CD-FIGURES

Appendix 8: Preliminary Analyses of Textiles Associated with the Wooden Furniture from Tumulus MM

- CD-Figure 1 Woven textile from the coffin (sample 2003-Tx-1). Optical microscopy showing plain weave, after solvent cleaning. Detail shown is 1.5 mm wide  $\times$  1.35 mm high.
- CD-Figure 2 Woven textile from the coffin (sample 2003-Tx-1). Optical microscopy showing plain weave with white microbial debris, prior to cleaning. Detail shown is 5.4 mm wide  $\times$  4.0 mm high.
- CD-Figure 3 Fragment of fiber (sample 2003-Tx-1) showing the cell wall with numerous perforations.
- CD-Figure 4 Cell wall fragments (sample 2003-Tx-1). Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate and  $1/4\lambda$  plate added). Note large fragments' red color.
- CD-Figure 5 Same fragment as in CD-Figure 4, but rotated 90 degrees. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate and  $1/4\lambda$  plate added). Note prominent blue color. The color change could indicate a right-handed bast fiber like flax or ramie.
- CD-Figure 6 Woven textile from the coffin (sample 2003-Tx-2, back) in its entirety. The fragment shows layers that have been overlaid in different directions.
- CD-Figure 7 As seen by optical microscopy, a detail of CD-Figure 6 shows a doubled weft running diagonally towards the lower right; sections running at different angles indicate various layers of fabric. Detail shown is 17 mm wide  $\times$  12.5 mm high.
- CD-Figure 8 Mass of possibly proteinaceous fibers from the front (red matted) side of sample 2003-Tx-2.
- CD-Figure 9 Mass of possibly proteinaceous fibers from the front (red matted) side of sample 2003-Tx-2.
- CD-Figure 10 Back view of fragment 2003-Tx-3 with yarn-like shapes visible in lighter color. Note small burr at right of center.
- CD-Figure 11 Side view of fragment 2003-Tx-3; the stratified layers are also differentiated by their color.
- CD-Figure 12 Detail of back view of fragment 2003-Tx-3, showing the cross-section of a pair of yarns forming a spiral shape. The uppermost is a Z-plyed yarn; the dark spaces between the lighter yarns indicate the possible locations for a perpendicular element, perhaps the weft. The yarn is 1.37 mm wide.
- CD-Figure 13 A "fruit" of Medicago spp. (burr clover, Fabaceae) observed on the back of sample 2003-Tx-3. It is about 4.8 mm  $\times$  5.6 mm.
- CD-Figure 14 Highly degraded fiber fragments (sample 2003-Tx-3).
- CD-Figure 15 Highly degraded fiber fragments (sample 2003-Tx-3).
- CD-Figure 16 Cracked fragmentary agglomerations (2003-Tx-4) contain remnants of textile structure, top center. See detail, CD-Figure 17.
- CD-Figure 17 Detail of textile fragment 2003-Tx-4, as seen by optical microscopy at low magnification. The crossing of a pair of yarns makes a spiral shape at the upper central edge of the fragment. Each yarn is about 0.2 mm wide.
- CD-Figure 18 Highly degraded fiber fragments (sample 2003-Tx-4).
- CD-Figure 19 The twined fabric on the back of sample 2003-Tx-5, difficult to discern because of the mottled debris.

- CD-Figure 20 At higher magnification with optical microscopy, the interaction of the twined vertical elements of sample 2003-Tx-5 are visible. The width of one of these yarns appears to be 0.2 mm wide.
- CD-Figure 21 A well-preserved fiber (sample 2003-Tx-5) embedded in a granular matrix. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate and  $1/4\lambda$  plate added).
- CD-Figure 22 Close-up of CD-Figure 21 showing thick cell wall with dislocations, indicating a bast fiber. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate and  $1/4\lambda$  plate added).
- CD-Figure 23 Another well-preserved fiber (sample 2003-Tx-5) embedded in a granular matrix. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate and a  $1/4\lambda$  plate added).
- CD-Figure 24 Same fiber as CD-Figure 23, but rotated 90 degrees. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate and  $1/4\lambda$  plate added). The color change indicates a right-handed bast fiber like flax or ramie.
- CD-Figure 25 Upper surface of the cushion or upholstery fragment from “stool #2” from the northeast corner of the tomb (2003-Tx-6).
- CD-Figure 26 Underside of cushion or upholstery fragment from “stool #2” from the northeast corner of the tomb (2005-Tx 6). Two cording yarns are visible in the right lower central section of this fragment; additional yarns running parallel to them are partly visible.
- CD-Figure 27 Detail of CD-Figure 26, as seen by optical microscopy, showing the upper left edge of the underside of the cushion or upholstery fragment from “stool #2” (2003-Tx-6), with the stratigraphic layers visible. The depth from the upper edge to the uppermost red layer is 2–3 mm.
- CD-Figure 28 Detail of CD-Figure 26, showing a microscopic view of the lower edge of the underside of the cushion or upholstery fragment from “stool #2” (2003-Tx-6), with the stratigraphic layers visible. An ovoid space (1.37 mm wide  $\times$  0.75 mm high) marks the spot where a textile element once lay; its longitudinal counterpart, a reddish yarn with an apparent Z twist, lies beneath it.
- CD-Figure 29 Upper surface of the cushion or upholstery fragment from “stool #2” from the northeast corner of the tomb (2003-Tx-6). The detail shows the twining, with clear horizontal spacings of 1.5 mm.
- CD-Figure 30 Upper surface of the cushion or upholstery fragment from “stool #2” from the northeast corner of the tomb (2003-Tx-6). Detail of the twining, at a slightly higher magnification, showing another type of patterning, possibly a verso. The vertical yarns appear to be about 0.44 mm wide.
- CD-Figure 31 Mass of fibers from sample 2003-Tx-6 resembling those in sample 2003-Tx-2 (see CD-Figures 8–9).
- CD-Figure 32 Mass of fibers from sample 2003-Tx-6 resembling those in sample 2003-Tx-2 (see CD-Figures 8–9).
- CD-Figure 33 Mass of fibers from sample 2003-Tx-6 resembling those in sample 2003-Tx-2 (see CD-Figures 8–9).
- CD-Figure 34 Fragment of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-7). The fragment has textile twining, but it is obscured by a tan powdery mass.
- CD-Figure 35 Mass of unknown fibers from sample 2003-Tx-7.
- CD-Figure 36 Mass of unknown fibers from sample 2003-Tx-7.
- CD-Figure 37 Mass of unknown fibers from sample 2003-Tx-7.
- CD-Figure 38 Fragments of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-8). These fragments also have textile twining, again obscured by a tan powdery mass.
- CD-Figure 39 Fragments of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-8). On the opposite side, the fragments have a balanced plain weave (tabby) in a light golden tan atop a dark yarn textile; the pattern of the latter cannot be read optically, but appears to be related to the twining.

- CD-Figure 40 Fragment of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-8). In this detail of CD-Figure 39, the fabric lies in layers, sometimes pressed into the surface and sometimes running at different angles.
- CD-Figure 41 Fragment of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-8). This photomicrographic detail of CD-Figure 39 shows the tabby fabric, with the S-plied yarns unevenly twisted.
- CD-Figure 42 Fragment of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-8). This photomicrographic detail of CD-Figure 39 shows the dark fabric, perhaps twining, that lies below the light golden tan tabby fabric. The dark yarns appear to be slightly S-twisted singles, 0.18–0.24 mm in diameter.
- CD-Figure 43 Mass of unknown fibers from sample 2003-Tx-8.
- CD-Figure 44 Mass of unknown fibers from sample 2003-Tx-8.
- CD-Figure 45 Mass of unknown fibers from sample 2003-Tx-8.
- CD-Figure 46 Fragment of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-9). The fragment has textile twining, but it is obscured by a tan powdery mass.
- CD-Figure 47 Fragment of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-9). This photomicrographic detail of CD-Figure 46 shows a cross-section of a pair of yarns twining about one another. The spacing between the (missing) perpendicular elements is 0.76 mm.
- CD-Figure 48 Fragment of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-9). With optical microscopy, the illustrated detail shows an area 20.25 mm wide × 15 mm high.
- CD-Figure 49 Fragment of the “bag” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner (2003-Tx-9). This detail of CD-Figure 48 shows the twined pairs placed 1.38 mm apart, with the elements running perpendicular to them spaced 0.5 mm apart. The yarns are fine, 0.12–0.15 mm in width.
- CD-Figure 50 Mass of unknown fibers from sample 2003-Tx-9.
- CD-Figure 51 Mass of unknown fibers from sample 2003-Tx-9.
- CD-Figure 52 “Pieces of fine material lifted from fibulae” on “stool #2” from the northeast corner. This detail of the plain weave fragment (2003-Tx-10) shows an irregular coating on some of the yarns. Detail shown is 0.5 mm wide × 0.4 mm high.
- CD-Figure 53 Detail from sample 2003-Tx-10, bast fiber, showing cell wall dislocations. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate and  $1/4\lambda$  plate added).
- CD-Figure 54 Detail from sample 2003-Tx-10, bast fiber. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate). Note predominant yellow color.
- CD-Figure 55 The same bast fibers seen in CD-Figure 54, but rotated 90 degrees. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate). Note blue color. The color change indicates a right-handed fiber like flax or ramie.
- CD-Figure 56 “Cloth” found “on the floor behind Throne Back A [serving stand A].” Overview of the fragment group examined (sample 2003-Tx-11).
- CD-Figure 57 “Cloth” found “on the floor behind Throne Back A [serving stand A].” Detail of Fabric #1 of textile sample 2003-Tx-11, seen at the lower right of CD-Figure 56.
- CD-Figure 58 “Cloth” found “on the floor behind Throne Back A [serving stand A].” Detail of Fabric #4 of textile sample 2003-Tx-11, seen at the top center of CD-Figure 56.
- CD-Figure 59 “Cloth” found “on the floor behind Throne Back A [serving stand A].” Detail of Fabric #3 of textile sample 2003-Tx-11, seen at the “6 o’clock” and “7 o’clock” positions of CD-Figure 56.
- CD-Figure 60 “Cloth” found “on the floor behind Throne Back A [serving stand A].” Detail of Fabric #2 of textile sample 2003-Tx-11, seen at the “3 o’clock” position, extreme right center in CD-Figure 56.
- CD-Figure 61 “Cloth” found “on the floor behind Throne Back A [serving stand A].” Detail of the bicomponent yarns of Fabric #2 of textile sample 2003-Tx-11, seen in CD-Figure 60.
- CD-Figure 62 Degraded fiber from Fabric #2 of textile sample 2003-Tx-11 with a highly perforated cell wall similar to that seen in textile sample 2003-Tx-1.
- CD-Figure 63 Another detail of the highly perforated cell wall seen in sample 2003-Tx-11.

- CD-Figure 64 Fiber fragments from sample 2003-Tx-11. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate).
- CD-Figure 65 The same fiber fragments shown in CD-Figure 64, but rotated 90 degrees. Polarized light microscopy (crossed polars with a  $\lambda$  plate). The color change indicates a right-handed bast fiber like flax or ramie.

Serving Stands A and B, Color Diagrams (Color Plates X–XI)

- CD-Figure 66 Color diagram of serving stand A, with each main design shown in a different color (Color Plate XA).
- CD-Figure 67 Color diagram of serving stand A, with each main design shown in a different color; derivatives of the main designs are shown in the same colors as the designs that they are meant to replace (Color Plate XB).
- CD-Figure 68 Color diagram of serving stand A, with each main design group shown in a different color (Color Plate XC).
- CD-Figure 69 Color diagram of serving stand A, with each main design group shown in a different color; derivatives of the main design groups are shown in the same colors as the groups they are meant to replace (Color Plate XD).
- CD-Figure 70 Color diagram of serving stand B, with each main design shown in a different color (Color Plate XIA).
- CD-Figure 71 Color diagram of serving stand B, with each main design shown in a different color; derivatives of the main designs are shown in the same colors as the designs that they are meant to replace (Color Plate XIB).
- CD-Figure 72 Color diagram of serving stand B, with each main design group shown in a different color (Color Plate XIC).
- CD-Figure 73 Color diagram of serving stand B, with each main design group shown in a different color; derivatives of the main design groups are shown in the same colors as the groups they are meant to replace (Color Plate XID).

Additional Comparanda: Monuments of the Phrygian Highlands

- CD-Figure 74 Diagram of the geometric pattern on the carved façade of Arslan Kaya in the Phrygian highlands to the west of Gordion. The complex decoration can best be understood by extending the pattern beyond the extent of the façade. Two sets of interconnected swastikas are embedded in the pattern, one group oriented counterclockwise (red and yellow) and the other clockwise (blue and green).
- CD-Figure 75 Inscription mentioning Midas on the face of the Midas Monument, Midas City, carved above the façade, to left.
- CD-Figure 76 Inscriptions on the Midas Monument, Midas City. Left (no. 5): graffiti on inner right side post of façade niche, mentioning Midas and Matar. Right (no. 2): inscription carved on the façade frame.
- CD-Figure 77 Arslan Taş, Phrygian Highlands.

Additional Comparanda: Iconography and Ethnographic Parallels

- CD-Figure 78 Two bronze plaques depicting sphinxes, Syria, ninth-eighth century B.C. Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.
- CD-Figure 79 “Rebus” pectoral, tomb of Tutankhamun, 14th century B.C. Egyptian Museum, Cairo.
- CD-Figure 80 Bronze standard, Alacahöyük, third millennium B.C. Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, Ankara.
- CD-Figure 81 Lead “idol,” Troy, third millennium B.C.
- CD-Figure 82 “Bell idol,” Boeotia. Late Geometric, eighth-seventh century B.C. Louvre.

- CD-Figure 83 “Bell idol,” Boeotia. Late Geometric, eighth-seventh century B.C. Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.
- CD-Figure 84 Drawing of the painted scene on a ceramic polos, Boeotia, seventh century B.C. Stockholm National Museum.
- CD-Figure 85 Relief pithos, Boeotia, seventh century B.C. National Archaeological Museum, Athens.
- CD-Figure 86 Terra-cotta stamps or seals, Çatalhöyük, sixth millennium B.C.
- CD-Figure 87 Wall painting, Çatalhöyük. Shrine E.VII/21, seventh-sixth millennium B.C.
- CD-Figure 88 Wife of a Teke Khan, photograph before 1890.
- CD-Figure 89 Turkmen baby’s dress, 19th–20th century. Silk ikat and printed cotton with later addition of silver, carnelian, shell, and bead decoration. Collection of the author.
- CD-Figure 90 Turkish traditional dress (right), Hubyar tribe, Almuş region.
- CD-Figure 91 Turkish traditional dress, Sivas mountain region.
- CD-Figure 92 Turkish traditional headdress, 19th century. Felt, string, and ribbon with silver, brass, coral, and bead decoration. Collection of the author.
- CD-Figure 93 Turkish doll in traditional dress, made by Hanife Güneş, 2004. Sorgun, Keles mountain region. Collection of the author.
- CD-Figure 94 Diagram of a “calendar” embroidery showing the year as a circle, divided into months, with each of the 365 days represented. Major feasts and the best planting days for various crops are indicated, along with the solstices and equinoxes. Historical Museum, Moscow.
- CD-Figure 95 Two wooden door posts, said to represent the “ancestors,” carved with lozenge patterns representing the multiple bodies of many generations. New Caledonia, South Pacific.
- CD-Figure 96 Toba woman with facial tattoos, including a quartered lozenge, with dots in the quadrants, on her forehead, Argentina.
- CD-Figure 97 Stele of King Warpalawas from Bor, eighth century B.C. Museum of the Ancient Near East, Istanbul.
- CD-Figure 98 Representations of Assyrian dress from the reign of Tiglath-pileser III (r. 744–727 B.C.).
- CD-Figure 99 Orthostat depicting the goddess Kubaba, Carchemish, tenth or ninth century B.C. Museum of Anatolian Civilizations, Ankara.
- CD-Figure 100 Roman grave relief from Amiternum, first century B.C.(?). Aquila, Museo Aquilano.