

Notes on the Contributors

Professor Eric Barendt is Goodman Professor of Media Law, University College, London.

The Hon. Michael Beloff QC is President of Trinity College Oxford, a Judge of the Court of Appeal of Jersey and Guernsey, a Bencher of Gray's Inn, a Member of the Court of Arbitration for Sport and Joint Head of Chambers at 4–5 Gray's Inn Square.

Charles Blake is a solicitor, a consultant to the Bar Council and a legal author.

Professor Gavin Drewry has a chair in Public Administration and is Director of the Centre for Political Studies, at Royal Holloway, University of London.

Professor David Feldman is Dean of the Faculty of Law and Barber Professor of Jurisprudence in the University of Birmingham.

Cyril Glasser is Managing Partner of Sheridans and Visiting Professor of Law, University College, London.

Professor Roy Gregory is Professor of Politics at the University of Reading and Director of the Reading Centre for Ombudsman Studies.

The Rt. Hon. Lord Lane is a former Lord Chief Justice.

Professor Terence Morris is Professor Emeritus of Criminology and Criminal Justice at the University of London.

Richard Plender QC practises at the Bar in London and (occasionally) in Brussels specializing in European Law.

Geoffrey Robertson QC is the Head of Doughty Street Chambers and is visiting professor in Human Rights law at Birkbeck College.