Handbook of Oriental Studies

Section 1

The Near and Middle East Online

Handbook of Oriental Studies. Section 1: The Near and Middle East Online

This collection offers scholarly reference works, bibliographies, and research tools on the political, economic, and social history of the ancient Near East. It covers a wide range of disciplines, including religion, archaeology, anthropology, literature, and linguistics. Featuring previously undigitized books from 1961 to 2015, new publications will be added in future editions. A title list and free MARC records are available for download.

Islamic History and Civilization Online

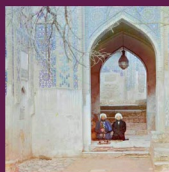

Islamic History and Civilization Online

Islamic History and Civilization covers the world of Islam, from the time of its earliest appearance until the pre-modern period, and from its Western to its Eastern frontiers. The series provides space for analytical studies of themes, issues, dynasties, regions, or personages, annotated translations and text editions, as well as conference proceedings related to the history and the intellectual, literary, artistic, and cultural traditions of Islam.

Islamic Philosophy, Theology and Science

Texts and Studies Online

Islamic Philosophy, Theology and Science. Texts and Studies Online

This series explores the interplay of philosophy, theology, and science in Islamic intellectual history, highlighting the unique contributions of scholars influenced by Greek-Hellenistic thought. It aims to address the lack of research in this field by publishing critical text editions, annotated translations, handbooks, and studies. Each volume contextualizes these works within their historical backgrounds and examines their Greek, Syriac, or Iranian origins, offering essential resources for understanding Islamic intellectual heritage.

Social, Economic and Political Studies of the Middle East and Asia Online

Social, Economic and Political Studies of the Middle East and Asia Online

Brill's Social, Economic and Political Studies of the Middle East and Asia series presents the results of scholarly research into contemporary social, cultural, economic and political conditions in the Middle East and Asia. It covers historical themes from the nineteenth century onward primarily as they contribute to understanding current issues. The series includes monographs, collaborative volumes and reference works by social scientists from all disciplines.

The Brill Book Archives are published in two parts:

BBA 1 (titles published 2000-2006) and BBA 2 (titles published pre-2000).

The Archives are available as one entire collection (over 15.000 titles), as either part 1 or 2, or as separate subject collections (12 subjects in total).
